TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

Chief interest to-day centres in the Sussex Handicap, which appears likely to attract a good field of fair-class horses, and the weights are so well allotted that it should provide a fine speculative medium. Of those already here I leave out Atirovaf, who did not impress at Epsom, while Mayfair seems a trifle outclassed. I am content to rely on Kitsiwitsy, who impressed when third to Bossover and Nabob at Epsom. Selections:—

Patcham Handicap—Golly Eyes; if absent, Jevington Lass.
Ditchling Plate—Sortance; if absent, Charity filly.
Grand Stand Handicap—Quilp.
Sussex Handicap—Kitsiwitsy.

Egremont Plate—Heliope; if absent, Pilatus.

ELM PARK CLUB.

The suitability of the Elm Park demesne at Merrion for the purposes of golf has for years past formed a topic for conversation among golfers in Dublin when the steady expansion of the game in the capital happened to come under discussion. In fact, on more than one occasion it was freely rumoured that the place had been acquired for a golf course, and credence was given to the rumour by the statement that Mr. Cecil Barcroft had actually laid out the course. As nothing came of these stories, however, it seemed as if the project had been abandoned; but it has now taken definite shape, and the "Elm Park Golf and Sports Club" is to be opened on or about the 16th July.

In addition to a golf course, there will be three tennis courts, a bowling green, croquet lawn and two putting greens; while the entire mansion is to be placed at the disposal of the club. That there is room for at least a few more golf courses in the neighbourhood of Dublin goes without saying; all the existing clubs are full, and with long waiting lists, which become longer each week, and in some cases a couple of years must elapse before those far down in the club lists can hope to be elected. In these circumstances, the announcement made by Mr. Louis McMullan concerning the Elm Park Golf and Sports Club comes at an opportune moment. Beautifully situated and convenient to the city, Elm Park is admirably positioned for a golf course. The secretary is Mr. Charles Doyne, Elm Park, Merrion, to whom applications for membership should be made.

WATER POLO.

DUBLIN DEFEATS SANDYCOVE.

The return match between the above teams, holders respectively of the Leinster Senior League Championship and the Leinster Senior Cup, was played last night at Blackrock Baths. The teams were:—

Dublin—W. Kay; H. M. Dockrell and Dr. Sexton; M. A. O'Connor; N. M. Purcell, J. A. O'Connor and B. G. Fagan.

Sandycove—W. Fagan; C. Fagan and W. Fitzhugh; J. Allen; M. Brophy, C. P. Kenna and C. Walsh.

Referee—Mr. H. F. Case.

Sandycove played well in the opening minutes, but Dublin gradually assumed superiority, and Purcell almost scored with a smart shot which rebounded from the crossbar. Keeping up the pressure, Fagan received from O'Connor and, being unmarked, swam close in to score 3 somewhat soft goal. Dublin led at the interval by this score.

The second half went altogether in favour of Dublin, four goals being added before the finish. Fagan repeated his success of the opening half, but this time his shot was well planted and the Sandycove goalkeeper had no chance. Purcell, who was in brilliant form, scored two more with splendid shots, on each occasion being indebted to M. O'Connor for the opportunity. The fifth goal was added by J. O'Connor. Result—

Dublin—5 goals.
Sandycove—Nil.

GOLF.

OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP.

HOYLAKE RECORD BROKEN

The golf in the first stage of the qualifying sections of the open championship, half played at Hoylake, where the actual championship will be decided on Thursday and Friday, and half at Formby, was yesterday marked by some brilliant play. The lowest score on each links was the same, George Gadd doing 70 at Formby and J. H. Taylor a similar figure at Hoylake. The test on the Cheshire links, however, is the more severe one, and, therefore the round by the wonderful veteran is the greater achievement. His score yesterday was one stroke lower than the best ever made on the course when it was shorter. Taylor's record figures were:—Out—455334354=36; in—433354354=34. Total 70.

Hagen, who has been regarded as the most dangerous American competitor, has very seriously endangered his chance of qualifying; indeed, he will require to do something phenomenal at Formby, where he plays his second round, in order to retrieve the disasters of his first round. He took 45 strokes for the outward half, and later had sixes at the sixteenth and seventeenth in a round of 83.

George Gadd, with his round of 70 at Formby, created a new record for the reconstructed course there, and he achieved the distinction by means of sound golf through the greens, and also by means of excellent putting. Mitchell's score of 78 was a somewhat remarkable one in view of the fact that he took eight strokes at the third and six at the eighth. Macdonald Smith was the only American to distinguish himself with a 72 at Formby.

Moses O'Neill, of Dun Laoghaire, was the only Irishman who played at Hoylake. E. MacNamara (Lahinch) was also due to play at Hoylake, but scratched. O'Neill early came to grief, for at the third hole he was twice bunkered and took a 7. Bunkered at the sixth cost him a 6, and a similar figure was registered at the last hole, where he was also trapped. He was out in 42 and home in 40, and is hovering in the danger zone. His card read:—

Out—547346355=42; in—435354556=40. Total 82.

D. E. Soulby, the only Irish representative at Formby, took 81, and will now have to fight hard for a place. He, however, played better than his figures would suggest. He was never off the course, nor did he miss a single shot through the green. He had nothing worse than a 5, but missed occasional putts.

The returns for Hoylake were:—

70—J. H. Taylor (Mid-Surrey).

72—A. G. Havers (Coombe Hill).

73—Mr. Samuel Robinson (Southport and Ainsdale) and E. R. Whitcombe (Camedown).

"OPEN WEEK" AT DUN LAOGHAIRE.

THE PROFESSIONAL COMPETITION.

"Open Week" at Dun Laoghaire was given a fine send-off yesterday, when twenty Irish professionals took part in a 36 holes medal competition for prizes presented by the club. To-day ladies' foursomes will be played up to 4 o'clock, and from that on there will be men's foursomes. To-morrow will be given over to a men's stroke competition, and the popular mixed foursome has been fixed for Thursday. Friday has been allocated to the ladies' stroke competition, and the week will conclude on Saturday with the men's four-ball v. bogey. The conditions yesterday were perfect, and should there be a continuance of the delightful weather which favoured the opening event record entries should be received for the several competitions.

The golf yesterday was, on the whole, good, and the finish was rather exciting, there being a tie between P. O'Connor and M. McDermott for first prize, while J. Sullivan and J. Barrett tied for third place, one stroke behind the leaders, with J. Martin only a stroke worse than Sullivan and Barrett. Going to the 17th Martin looked like finishing well up, as he was then level fours, but a pulled mashie shot to the 17th cost him a stroke. The best round in the forenoon was J. Quinn's 72; but he broke down in the evening, taking 84. J. Sullivan had a go at his own record, made three years ago, after he had taken 77 in the morning, but failed by two strokes to equal it; but his 70 was the best return of the day, and enabled him to share the prize money. Connor and McDermott played very steady golf. In the morning the County Louth man went out in 38 and came back in 36, and his figures in the evening were:—Out 35, home 37. McDermott was 37 to the turn in the forenoon, and a stroke less on the return journey; while his second round of 73 was made up of 34 and 39. Sullivan played excellent golf for his 70. He reached the turn in 33, and came in in 37. The scores and aggregates were:—

LAWN TENNIS.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Yesterday saw the beginning of the Championships at Wimbledon. The weather was ideal, and never before has there been so great a crowd for the opening day, for usually comparatively little real interest attaches to the early stages, which have come to be regarded merely as the weeding-out process. Weeding-out it most certainly is this year, since, by the adoption of the "seeded" draw principle, never previously known in this country, the "stars" cannot clash until the events are well advanced. There were no surprises yesterday, and no sensations; yet good progress was made with the Men's Singles and some exciting duels were witnessed. Vincent Richards, the volatile young American, whom popular fancy suggests as the winner, had an unexpectedly easy task in defeating A. E. Park, a New Zealander. O. G. N. Turnbull, the British Isles International, gave J. B. Gilbert a hard run, though he was beaten in three straight sets. Willford created a surprise by taking the first set against Borotra, the French Champion, and, though vanquished, fought on gallantly, while in no case did disaster overtake any of the notable players.

The match of the day that stood out was that between France and Japan, represented by R. Lacoste and S. Okamoto, who is to play for Japan in the Davis Cup. The first two sets left honours even, Okamoto, displaying unflinching courage, fought valiantly, but Lacoste's forcefulness, brilliant placing, precise volleying, and alertness in making recoveries in the corners, especially on the back hand, ultimately gained the victory by three sets to one. HAMPSHIRE V. SOUTH AFRICANS.

Nourse, who had batted so well on Saturday for South Africans, enjoyed the distinction of scoring another hundred at Southampton yesterday, helping largely in the visitors' successful venture to head Hampshire's total. Batting for another three hours and thirty-five minutes, the South Africans added 273, and so led Hampshire by 57. Nourse and Commaille put on 127 in a hundred minutes for the third wicket, and Hands helped to add 57, but eight men were out for 243 before the ninth wicket realised 32, and the tenth 61. Nourse, fifth out at 215, batted magnificently for two hours and fifty minutes, driving and cutting with accuracy, and hitting one 5 and sixteen 4's; and, apart from a sharp slip chance at 32, he made no mistake. Hampshire had three men out for 76 in the second innings, but Tennyson hit hard, and Brown and Fowler batted well during the last forty-five minutes, and at the close Hampshire were 128 ahead. LEICESTERSHIRE V. LANCASHIRE

At Ashby-De-La-Zouch Leicestershire made a moderate total of 136, and the only redeeming features were the efforts of Astill and Coulson. The former, after being missed off the first ball, batted with resource and freedom. He pulled, and off and on drove with vigour, and scored 61 out of 83 while he was at the wicket, his runs being obtained in eighty-five minutes. The innings lasted two and a half hours. Lancashire [illegible] 123. Hopwood and Hallows gave Lancashire a good start for the second innings, scoring 67 for the first wicket. Score:—

YORKSHIRE V. SUSSEX.

Bold and vigorous batting by Tate at Sheffield yesterday enabled Sussex, who had lost four wickets for 33, to come within 8 of Yorkshire's first innings total; but a splendid first wicket partnership by Holmes and Sutcliffe subsequently placed the champions in a strong position, especially as Sussex are deprived of the services of Bowley, who injured an ankle so badly playing tennis on Sunday that he is unlikely to play for several weeks. Tate, who went in at the fall of the fifth wicket at 42, scored 102 in an hour and three-quarters, hitting a six and 14 fours, and, except for a chance in the long field when 71, he made no mistake. ATHLETICS.

ARMY ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL CONVENTION.

The second annual Convention of the Army Athletic Association was held at General Headquarters, Parkgate, Major-General D. Hogan, Chairman, presiding. The other delegates present were:—Eastern Command—Rev. S. Pigott, Colonel E. O'Carroll, Commandant Fox, Captains McCarron, Brannigan, and Murphy, Lieutenant Lanigan. Southern Command—Rev. Father McCarthy, Colonel Byrne, Commandants Kingston and Hannon. Western Command—Rev. Father Feeley, Captains O'Donnell, Whelan, O'Doherty, and Lieutenant Cowan. General Headquarters Command—Commandant Mackey, Lieutenant Tully. Curragh Command—Colonel Quinn, Lieutenant Staines, Colonel McGrath, Major-General Cronin, Captain O'Brien, and Commandant Colgan, Secretary, were also in attendance.

Letters, regretting their inability to be present, and promising every support, were received from General E. O'Duffy, G.O.C.F.; Lieutenant-General P. McMahon, Chief of General Staff; Major-General H. McNeill, Adjutant-General and Colonel A. Brennan, Western Command.

The following officials were unanimously elected:—Chairman, Major-General D. Hogan; Vice-Chairman, Rev. T. J. O'Callaghan; Treasurer, Colonel T. McGrath; Secretary, Commandant P. Colgan.

It was decided that the Executive Council be composed of two delegates from each command.

Major-General Cronin, who, owing to his onerous duties, reluctantly resigned the treasurership of the Executive Association, was elected a member of the Executive Council.

A resolution from the Southern Command, calling on the Association to make application to the G.A.A. for the status of a province, so as to give the Army an opportunity to compete for the All-Ireland Championships was deferred until next Army Convention, which, it was decided, should be held prior to the G.A.A. Congress. A motion from the same Command that the Army authorities be requested to supply sports fields in the different military centres was adopted.

The Southern Command also moved that the Association cater for all games. After a lengthy and interesting discussion the motion was defeated by 18 votes to 6.

A motion from the Eastern Command that every officer, N.C.O. and man be automatically a member of the Association was unanimously adopted. The same Command moved that the Executive Council be empowered to make monetary grants for travelling expenses to Command Councils. Same was withdrawn. Major-General Cronin explained that the Commands would in the future be in a much better position financially than in the past, the Canteen Rebate being now available to the amount of 3 per cent. for athletic purposes. A further resolution from the Eastern Command requesting the Army authorities to supply jerseys and pants as part of kit of each N.C.O. and man was adopted.

General Headquarters Command moved that arrangements be made whereby it would be possible for Army athletes to compete at meetings under N.A.C.A.I. auspices in the name of the Army Athletic Association. It was decided to affiliate the Army Athletic Association with the N.A.C.A.I.

The balance sheet showed the Association to be in a healthy financial position, cash on hands amounting to £1,367 11/3.

It was decided to commence the championships at once. A meeting of the Executive Council, to make draws and fixtures, will be held at Portobello Barracks on Monday, 30th June.

The Allies and Germany.

The visit of the new French Premier to England seems to have been a remarkable success. M. Herriot arrived at Chequers last Saturday and spent the night as the guest of Mr. Ramsay Macdonald. Extremely important conversations took place between the two statesmen, and when M. Herriot left Chequers "complete agreement" had been reached. That phrase "complete agreement" is suspect in Great Britain. It was used by Mr. Lloyd George to describe the result of almost every conference in which he took part, and Mr. Baldwin applied it to the result of his famous meeting in Paris with M. Poincaré; yet Anglo-French relations went steadily from bad to worse after every successive conference. On this occasion people will prefer to await developments. Despite the obvious cordiality of M. Herriot's meeting with Mr. Macdonald, they will not lose sight of the fact that the one great difference between Britain and France is the fundamental difference between the Anglo-Saxon and the Gallic point of view, which cannot be bridged by a handshake in the garden of a country house. M. Herriot, like Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, is a Radical, and is as far removed from the mentality of M. Poincaré as the British Premier is removed from the mentality of, say, the Marquis Curzon. On the other hand, M. Herriot is a Frenchman. The manner of his policy may differ from that of his predecessor, but its direction is likely to be substantially the same. No drastic change would be tolerated by public opinion in France, which was solidly behind M. Poincaré in his foreign policy.

One of the greatest barriers against Anglo-French co-operation during the past few years has been the personality of M. Poincaré. No British statesman could warm to him. He was cold, unsympathetic and stubborn, a man of the highest integrity, but the slave of his own cast-iron convictions. M. Herriot seems to be a totally different type. He is from the South of France, and is as sympathetic in his dealings with his fellow-men as M. Poincaré was aloof and austere. Already he and Mr. Macdonald are on excellent terms, and the mere existence of a personal bond between the two men will help to simplify the tasks that lie ahead. M. Herriot has accepted the Dawes Report without reserve. A conference will be held in London on July 16th to discuss the best methods of putting it into operation, and representatives of Britain, Belgium, France and Italy will attend. Mr. Ramsay Macdonald announced in the House of Commons yesterday that the Government of the United States also would be invited to participate in the conference, and, if it accepts the invitation, a great advance will have been achieved. When the Allies have agreed among themselves as to the manner of their procedure the German Government will be invited to send delegates to London, and an effort will be made to get rid of the reparations problem once for all.

The one real difficulty that lies in the way is the problem of the Ruhr Valley. The Dawes Report states quite definitely that Germany cannot be expected to meet her financial obligations until she is mistress of her own soil. In other words, France must evacuate the Ruhr Valley before there can be any real hope of reparations. In all probability, the new French Premier recognises that the occupation of the Ruhr was an almost disastrous blunder; but it is doubtful that he will be able to convince the French people that evacuation is essential to a reasonable settlement of the whole business. On this point Frenchmen of all parties are almost unanimous, and the fact that even M. Herriot appointed as his War Minister General Nollet, who always was a staunch supporter of the Poincaré policy, suggests that public opinion is forcing him to tread in his predecessor's footsteps. The defeat of his candidate for the Presidency by M. Doumergue was a warning to M. Herriot that the bloc national is still alive in France, and the slightest sign of weakness in regard to the Ruhr might precipitate another political crisis. For the time being, therefore, the British people will be well advised to build no false hopes on the result of the Chequers meeting. The situation, undoubtedly, is more hopeful than it has been at any other period during the last two years, but no more can be said with safety.

Reduction of Prices.

The text of the Trade Loans (Guarantee) Bill is published to-day. It leaves much to the imagination and will stimulate curiosity in the Minister's statement on the motion for second reading, which will be made to-morrow in Dail Eireann. The Bill's two objects are the promotion of employment and the reduction of retail prices. In the former case the Free State Government proposes to guarantee the capital and interest of loans raised by public authorities or corporations for the purpose of schemes which will provide employment. In the latter case it proposes not merely to guarantee, but to grant, loans for enterprises, started by public authorities and by associations of producers and consumers, that are calculated to lower the prices of commodities. A guarantee fund limited to £750,000 cannot be expected to make much impression on the problem of unemployment, and, in any case, it is not lack of capital resources, but the disturbed condition of the labour market, that is paralysing industrial initiative in the Free State. If the Ministry of Industry and Commerce could restore the discipline and bargaining power of Labour in Dublin and throughout the country, it would strike a real blow for the unemployed. There is a danger that unsound schemes may be floated for the mere sake of raising money under the Government's auspices, and much will depend on the character of the Committee which will advise the Ministries in these matters. The Government's proposed attack on "profiteering" has a more promising aspect. This Bill offers to assist with guarantees or actual loans, to a total amount of £250,000, public bodies or private associations whose activities will tend to reduce retail prices. In other words, the Bill will subsidise a civic warfare on the "rings" which now keep the prices of nearly all essential commodities at an unnatural level. Many attempts have been made to break these "rings"—milk "rings," fish "rings," fruit and vegetable "rings" and the like—but all have failed, because highly organised interests have been too strong for individual effort; and some gallant enterprises have collapsed, through lack of capital, on the very eve of success. We may hope that such enterprises will be renewed now on a larger scale, and the Government's moral support should be a not less valuable ally than its financial aid. We suggest to the Minister of Industry and Commerce that the larger part of the grants and guarantees under this section ought to be concentrated on Dublin—the headquarters of "profiteering" in the Free State—since a victory won here will be a victory for the whole nation. On principle we dislike State interference with private business, but in this case Mr. McGilligan's plan seems to be justified by the flagrancy of the evil. Moreover, the plan is strictly experimental. The Government's financial commitment is not alarming, and a time-limit of twelve months has been fixed for the operation of the Bill.

Irish Roads.

The Royal Dublin Society, ever ready to help the best interests of the Free State, has arranged that a lecture on "Road Construction and Maintenance" shall be delivered on Thursday in the Theatre Royal. The lecturer, Mr. J. S. Killick, has a distinguished record to support his views, since he has held the posts of Chief Engineer and Deputy-Director of Roads under the Ministry of Transport in London, and of British delegate to the International Roads Congress. We in Ireland have much to learn about road construction and maintenance, and, in order to ensure that the information shall reach the right ears, the Royal Dublin Society has invited representatives of all the county councils to be present at the lecture. The subject has been forced painfully of late into public notice, and it affects the well-being of the whole country. Progress cannot be made without good communications. The hardship of travel on bad roads is aggravated by the high rates charged by railway companies and by the very limited services that are in operation. It is too late now to hope for any notable improvement in the roads of the Free State before the expected arrival of visitors for the Horse Show and the Tailteann Games, and it is certain that the worst impression will be made on persons who are accustomed to the good roads of England and the Continent. The report of the Chief Engineer of the Local Government Board on the roads in King's County speaks of "the frightful condition of the roads" and the inefficiency of the steam-rolling. Mr. Killick, doubtless, will be able to give some illuminating hints to the county councils' representatives, but more is needed than mere technical knowledge. The state of our roads demands energetic treatment, and the longer action is deferred the more difficult the task of improvement will become.

Chinese Pirates.

In spite of the measures which have been taken to put down piracy in China, the pirates continue to be active. Indeed, they have had the audacity to formulate a plan—fortunately, unsuccessful—to capture the largest cruiser in the Chinese Navy. Piracy is a crime that always has carried, like highway robbery, a certain glamour in history and literature. The redoubtable Captain Hook makes an annual reappearance every Christmas in theatre-land and Captain Kidd is a figure in literature no less romantic than Dick Turpin or Macbeth. The practice of piracy is as old as history itself. In the heroic age of Greece it was very common, and there are frequent references to it in the Homeric poems. In the century before Christ the Roman Republic was forced to undertake a prolonged campaign against the pirates who ravaged its coasts. The seventeenth century saw the end, or almost the end, of piracy in Western Europe, but as late as 1816 the British Fleet, under Lord Exmouth, bombarded the City of Algiers in order to stop the activity of pirates on the Northern coast of Africa. Piracy is regarded as a crime against mankind, rather than against any particular State, and is punishable by any competent court to which the offenders may be taken. Consequently the British authorities at Hong Kong have a legal right to take action against the Chinese marauders. Reports of their exploits show them to be, as a rule, degenerate and unimaginative descendants of the pirates of past ages. They have caused much interference, however, with maritime trade and communication in the Far East, and there are insistent demands for their suppression, which probably will not be long deferred.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The King and Queen, accompanied by the King and Queen of Denmark, occupied the Royal Box at the International Horse Show at Olympia yesterday, when there was a very large attendance. To-day the King will hold an Investiture at Buckingham Palace, and to-morrow Their Majesties' Garden Party will take place.

* * *

Given fair weather to-morrow, everything points to a brilliant success for Alexandra Day, for which ten million roses have been prepared. Though it has not been possible this year to arrange for a party of sellers to travel to Paris by aeroplane, the fund will not suffer, as a firm of famous perfumers have undertaken to organise the sale in the French capital, and have placed their salons at the disposal of the Rose Day Committee. A number of Irish ladies, at present in London, are assisting as sellers.

* * *

The Duke of Connaught was among the large congregation in Grand Priory Church, Clerkenwell, yesterday, when the Archbishop of York preached at the annual Commemoration Service of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

* * *

The next Royal visitors in England will be the Queen of Spain and her daughters, Princess Beatrice and Princess Christina, who will arrive shortly on a visit to Princess Beatrice at Kensington Palace. King Alfonso is expected later on in the season.

* * *

The Earl and Countess of Granard, the Duke of Sermoneta, the Countess of Cottenham, the Lithuanian Minister and Madame Carneckis, and Baron Henri de Rothschild are among the latest departures from London for Paris.

The Earl of Powis is sixty-two to-day. He is the son of the late General Sir Percy Herbert, K.C.B., and nephew of the third Earl, whom he succeeded in 1891, the year after his marriage with the Hon. Violet Eveline Lane-Fox, now Baroness Darcy de Knayth in her own right. Their elder son died of wounds received in action in 1916, and they have one surviving son and one daughter. The former bears the courtesy title of Viscount Clive, and is heir to his mother's Barony as well as to the Earldom.

The sponsors were the Countess of Denbigh, Lady Bettie Feilding and the Hon. Charles Clifford.

MAESTRO VIANI'S PUPILS.

CONCERT AT THE ABBEY THEATRE.

Maestro A. G. Viani, who is Senior Professor in Singing at the Royal Irish Academy of Music, has caused, through the successes of his pupils, something of a stir since he got to work in Dublin. Last night an entire concert was given by pupils of his, and some interesting singing was heard. Such events are not, as a rule, attractive to any but the friends of the performers, and these were present in large number at the Abbey Theatre; but there were some performances in this particular concert that would not have been out of place in a programme by admitted artistes.

* * * * *

The programme was in two parts, one of which consisted entirely of operatic selections. It was in the latter that the weak points were more noticeable. In the other part of the programme the singers were more at liberty to choose songs within their measure. Mr. P. J. Duffy was heard to advantage in both parts, his singing of Massenet's "Vision Fugitive" being admirably vocal and dramatic. Mr. J. Nowlan and Miss P. Maconkey also had solos in both parts of the programme: one of the best performances of the evening was Miss Maconkey's in the first half, when she sang three difficult and diversified songs—"The March" (Bantock), "Devotion" (Strauss), and "Kishmul's Galley" (Kennedy Fraser).

* * * * *

Mr. Michael Gallagher, who is already well known on Dublin concert platforms, contributed four songs, including Moussorgshy's "Song of the Flea." He is now getting a good deal of tone from his voice, and ought, one would think, to do well in opera.

What Maestro Viani can do in imparting flexibility of voice was illustrated by the singing of Italian opera excerpts by Miss P. O'Regan and Miss M. Dingle. Miss Dingle, Miss Ivy Furlong, Mr. P. Kirwan and Mr. J. Nowlan, as well as singing solos, joined in singing the quartet from "Rigoletto"; and others who took part were Miss J. Curran, Miss M. Dunne, Miss E. Clarke, Miss M. Starkie, Mr. A. Robinson, Mr. H. Johnston and Mr. H. Thornton.

* * * * *

The music that was rendered was unusually interesting, including, as it did, songs by Lully, Quilter, Wolf, Brahms, John Ireland, Schumann, Schubert, Debussy, Grechaninov and Purcell—a wide range, in addition to French and Italian opera selections. An "Alleluia" (Morris), sung by the pupils in chorus, was included in the programme.

LIFEBOAT INSTITUTION.

CENTENARY YEAR IN DUBLIN.

The Dublin Committee will make a very special appeal to the people of Dublin to-morrow and Thursday in support of the work of the Lifeboat Institution. The record of its work during the past century is remarkable. It has been the means of rescuing nearly 60,000 lives—i.e., 11 lives saved in every week for 100 years. The Institution claims to be one of the best managed of all our charitable organisations. Its entire administrative expenses for the year 1923 was only 7% of the total receipts.

The cost of a modern lifeboat is £10,000, in contrast with the cost of the first lifeboat one hundred years ago—viz., £149. On the Irish coast there are at present stationed 25 lifeboats, including six modern motor lifeboats, stationed at Kingstown (Dun Laoghaire), Wicklow, Arklow, Wexford, Baltimore, and Donaghadee. Two other boats are under construction, and will be stationed at Portrush and Dunmore East.

During the past twenty-five years the Institution has spent on the Irish lifeboat stations, including new lifeboats, houses, maintenance, etc., upwards of £187,000, being an average annual expenditure of nearly £7,500. The total revenue from Ireland for the same period was approximately £29,000, showing an annual average income of £1,160. These figures speak for themselves, and it is hoped that every person who appreciates the good work done by the Institution will respond generously to the appeal which will be made on the Flag Days, to-morrow and Thursday next.

The Institution is supported solely by voluntary contributions. It receives no subsidy whatever from the State, whereas the American lifeboat service is a State-managed one, and, while it maintains about the same number of lifeboats as the Institution does, the cost to the American taxpayer is about four times as much as that of our own voluntary service.

TEMPERANCE REFORM.

METHODIST CONFERENCE AND FREE STATE BILL.

At the annual Conference of the Methodist Church in Ireland, sitting in Cork, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—"That this, the annual Conference of the Methodist Church in Ireland, consisting of ministerial and lay representatives from all parts of the country, now in session in the City of Cork, expresses its gratification that the Government of the Saorstat Eireann has introduced a measure of temperance reform, of which the Conference heartily approves. The Conference assures the Government of the strong support of the members of the Methodist Church in the matter, and sincerely hopes that the bill now before the Dail, including the clauses dealing with the entire abolition of mixed trading on licensed premises, may be speedily passed through all its stages. That copies of the resolution be forwarded to the President of Saorstat Eireann, and the Minister of Justice."

Alderman George Hadden, of Wexford, in proposing the resolution, said that as it was the first time that the representatives of the Methodist Conference had occasion to communicate with the Government of Saorstat Eireann, he wished, on his own behalf—and he believed he spoke for the people of the South generally—to bear testimony to the impartial administration of the present Government. It was in favour of complete religious freedom for all classes.

The resolution was seconded by Mr. J. T. Mulligan, of Cork, and passed unanimously.

A strong resolution on the evils of betting and gambling was adopted.

It was decided to hold the 1925 Conference in Dublin on the 16th of June.

The date of the Autumn Synods was fixed for September 9th, and that of the Spring Synods for April 28th.

A vote of thanks was passed to the President, the Rev. Ferrier Hulme, and other officers.

This concluded the public business of the Conference.

LONDON LETTER.

THE PRINCE'S BIRTHDAY.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
MONDAY NIGHT.

The only public demonstrations to-day in honour of the thirtieth birthday of the Prince of Wales were the firing of Royal salutes and the flying of flags on Government and private buildings in the City and West End. A member of the Prince's household said this morning that his birthday mail had broken all records, and the unprecedented number of telegrams and letters was a proof of the ever-increasing popularity of the Heir to the Throne. The Prince, after attending to the most important of the messages, went for a swim at the Bath Club, and on his return to St. James's Palace had a great reception from the crowd assembled there in the hope of seeing him. A big luncheon party at Buckingham Palace was the family celebration of the day.

It is now generally recognised in Court circles that the Prince of Wales may have to take possession of Marlborough House before long, since Queen Alexandra does not intend to make use of it again, and has frequently expressed a wish that the Prince would live there. It is probable that, if the Prince does decide to move, he will have little trouble; for Queen Alexandra will take only her most cherished personal possessions, leaving the furniture and works of art liberally scattered through the building in their places. The house is somewhat in the way of being a palace; for it possesses some really fine rooms and accommodation for a very large household. It has a garden with a private chapel, and its windows look out on the Mall on one side and on Buckingham Palace on the other.

"Plain David."

The Star relates the following story á propos the Prince's birthday: "The Prince of Wales is plain 'David' in the family circle. The Queen picked the name, unusual for an English Prince, out of seven he was endowed with at his christening for a curious reason. The night he was born at White Lodge, Richmond Park, an Irish Court lady, the Countess of Waterford, very old and infirm, and reputed to be gifted with second sight, was lying ill in London. Late in the night her attendants heard her shouting. They rushed in and found her sitting up in bed. 'A Prince is born,' she told them, 'and the old prophecy that a Prince called David shall bring peace to the nations shall be fulfilled.' When they sought to soothe her she pointed to the open window. 'Listen,' she said, 'the Royal salute from the Palace.'" A Prince certainly had been born about that time, but there was no artillery salute. When the Queen heard the story she was so struck with it that she insisted that the Prince's family name should be David. The story is interesting, but who was the Countess of Waterford?

A New Conference.

In the Lobby to-day little fresh was known concerning the forthcoming International Conference, and it was still uncertain what Powers will be invited or when the invitations will be sent out. It is understood, however, that no time will be lost, and in the meanwhile the United States is to be approached to see whether it will send a representative. Should the United States Government decide in the affirmative, its decision would be most cordially welcomed here and in Paris. Italy certainly will send a representative, though it is regarded as unlikely that it will be Signor Mussolini, since he is so busily engaged; but he has accepted the Dawes Report, and will, therefore, work with the Allies.

Unemployment.

The Independent Labour Party is doing its utmost to make the Government feel uncomfortable over the unemployment question, and with this view a great number of meetings are taking place under the auspices of the party. The idea is to secure public support for a policy of compulsion, so that the Government may be prevailed upon to adopt more extensive measures, and thus impress the electorate with the idea that Socialism is the only party able to provide a solution to a question hitherto unanswered. The extravagance of the measures proposed can be seen from the fact that they include higher wages, shorter hours, no juvenile labour, a loan for Russia, enormous electrification schemes, railway reconstruction and intensive building.

Old Age Pensions.

When old age pensions were first mooted it was stated that the annual payment involved would be simply a matter of a few hundred thousands of pounds. The cost when the pension was actually instituted in 1908 at the rate of five shillings a week for persons whose incomes did not exceed £21 per annum amounted to just over two millions. Ever since the cost has gone up by leaps and bounds; for in 1917 the amount was nearly fourteen millions, and last year over twenty-three millions. The removal of the thrift disqualification will add more millions to that total.

Mr. W. S. Royce.

The sudden death of Mr. W. S. Royce, the Labour member for the Holland with Boston Division, while riding in a 'bus to-day, caused quite a painful sensation at the House of Commons, where Mr. Royce was widely respected. During the week-end his name had been mentioned in connection with the Governorship of Tasmania, and he had been home to Spalding to consult his friends as to his acceptance of the appointment. It is understood that he had made up his mind to take the post, and was on his way to inform the Colonial Secretary of his decision. In the House of Commons he has frequently spoken with considerable knowledge on agricultural topics; but in his early days he was an engineer, and made enough money in South Africa to live in comfort at home in a house bearing the somewhat curious name of Pinchbeck Hall. Twice he contested the Spalding Division as a Conservative, but in 1918 he joined the Labour Party.

The Late Sir Henry Wilson.

Lady Wilson, as a memorial to her late husband, Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, has erected a marble cross near his tomb in the crypt of St. Paul's Cathedral. This memorial will be privately unveiled to-morrow afternoon. It is now two years since Sir Henry Wilson was murdered outside his home in Eaton place.

Child Welfare.

His majesty the baby is to have a week to himself in London from Monday next, during the third English-speaking conference on infant welfare, organised jointly by the National Association for the Prevention of Infant Mortality and the National Baby Week Council. This is taking place at Caxton Hall, Westminster, when English-speaking delegates from overseas, as well as from this country, will meet to discuss the most important aspects of the maternity and child welfare question. Delegates are coming from South Africa, Australia, Tasmania, Nova Scotia, Gambia, India, Leeward Islands, United States of America, Newfoundland and China. They will particularly welcome the opportunity which is offered to visit child welfare institutions in the London area, and in connection with the conference personally conducted tours have been arranged for them to visit well-known institutions. Those delegates who wish to visit a modern rural welfare centre will be welcomed at the Infant Welfare Centre at Chesham, Bucks.

DAWES REPORT.

DOMINIONS TO BE CONSULTED.

GERMANY'S PART.

NO DECISION UNTIL ALLIED CONFERENCE

PREMIER'S PROMISE.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald in the House of Commons yesterday informed Sir Frederick Wise that the Dominion Governments have been kept fully acquainted with the policy of the Government concerning the Dawes Report and all developments arising therefrom.

He later made a statement on the subject in reply to a question put by Mr. Baldwin.

"The purpose of the interview between the French Prime Minister and myself," he said, "was to discuss the arrangements that have to be made in order to put the experts' report into operation, and to survey the various methods, with which co-operation between France and ourselves seems to be desirable in order to promote security and peace in Europe.

"This must not be taken to mean that the intention is to make any exclusive arrangement between any two Powers. The discussions will be reported to the Prime Ministers of Belgium and Italy, to whom we are anxious that no decision shall be presented as having been already taken. The talk was preliminary to the Inter-Allied Conference, which is to meet in London on the 16th of next month. The communiqué issued to the Press covers the ground of the conversation."

Mr. Lloyd George asked whether America would be represented at the Conference; whether Germany was to be invited to it; whether the subject matter was to be confined to the Dawes report; or whether there would be any discussion of Inter-Allied debts, and the question of security.

Mr. R. Macdonald—It is highly desirable that America should be at the Inter-Allied Conference on July 16. We are not at the moment in communication, but a communication to that effect will be made to the American Government. With reference to the representation of Germany, this was discussed, but it is at first essential that there should be agreement between the Allies as to what they are prepared to do to put the report into effect. It is felt that certain obligations imposed upon Germany by the experts' report are somewhat outside the obligations imposed upon her by the Treaty of Versailles, and the question remains for consultation with Belgium and Italy, in pursuance with the consultation we have had this week-end, as to how best to make Germany a willing partner in sharing those obligations. The exact form is not settled, but is under consideration. The business at the Inter-Allied Conference will be the Dawes report.

Mr. Lloyd George—Exclusively?

Mr. R. Macdonald—Will be the Dawes report. As soon as all the machinery has been arranged for putting it into operation, and is actually in operation, obviously we shall go on to discuss, I hope, other outstanding matters between France and ourselves, including the Inter-Allied debts. I hope the House will be perfectly clear about this, that there is going to be no mixing up of inter-Allied debts with the putting of the Dawes report into operation.

Mr. Pringle asked if the question of the proportion in which the Allies shared anything from Germany would be re-opened.

Mr. R. Macdonald—Certainly not.

Mr. R. McNeill asked whether, in view of the recent correspondence with Canada over the Lausanne Conference, was it proposed to ask representatives of the Dominions to take part in this Conference.

Mr. R. Macdonald—As a matter of fact we are in communication with the Dominions now. I had better just give this assurance, without committing myself to the details of how it is to be done—that the Dominions will be completely consulted, so that they may feel they are partners with us in everything we do. (Cheers.) I should like to make it quite clear that in settling the question of putting the Dawes report into operation we shall certainly undertake no responsibility that either this country or the Dominions will be mulcted in seeing it carried out.

Mr. Lloyd George—Do I understand that Germany will not be at the first Conference; that Germany will be invited subsequently to another Conference here or elsewhere?

Mr. Macdonald—May I ask the House to leave it as I have stated it? I have stated that we have talked it over and that we have come to no conclusion. There are at least three ways of dealing with this matter, but it will be dealt with. Germany will be asked to come in in order to make the final arrangements for putting the Dawes report into operation.

PARIS COMMENT.

"A PACT OF ALLIANCE."

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Monday.

General pleasure is expressed here at the news from London. Last night's French communiqué has a notable passage:—

"In presence of the difficulties which beset our two countries and the whole world," says the French version, "we have agreed to conclude together a moral pact for continuous collaboration."

Various of the French correspondents characterise this communication as "historic" and "sensational," and one of them says it is in the nature of a pact of alliance.

The loudest dissentient is "Pertinax," who thinks that in lending his hand to such a document M. Herriot has given a fatal turn to French policy. "The problems of reparations, and of France's future safety, are thus to be handed over," he says, "to the tender mercies of Geneva. We are back to the period of International Conferences, to an Areopagus, which will put very small value upon our claims. Germany is about to escape from the strait jacket, which, in her present mood, is alone able to confine her within the framework of the Treaty."

Comment generally is in a quite different tone, but most responsible writers think that the path happily entered yesterday by Mr. Macdonald and M. Herriot has formidable difficulties in it.

On the vexed question of the military occupation of the Ruhr, M. Herriot is stated to have been willing, once the machinery of the Dawes plan has commenced to work, to withdraw the French troops, but he believes France and Belgium cannot safely relinquish their hold upon certain lines of railway, which would enable them, in the case of Germany again making default or becoming a menace, to resume the occupation.

It is emphasised, however, that these and other questions not arising inevitably out of the Dawes report are to be left for the present, and that the Conference to meet in July should be confined to these latter.

Mr. Macdonald's promise to return the French Premier's visit to Paris is taken to foreshadow a second meeting to be held here before the end of next month, and even a third is spoken of, at which the programme for discussion would be Inter-Allied debts.

M. HERRIOT IN BELGIUM.

BRUSSELS, Monday.

M. Herriot arrived here this evening. He was accompanied from Ostend by the French Ambassador, and was welcomed at the station by MM. Theunis and Hymans, the Belgian Prime Minister, and Foreign Minister, respectively.—(Reuter.)

TRADE FACILITIES.

GOVERNMENT GUARANTEE FOR LOANS.

REDUCTION OF RETAIL PRICES.

The text of the Trade Loans (Guarantee) Bill, introduced in the Dail last Friday by the Minister for Industry and Commerce, was issued yesterday. It provides for Government guarantee or grant of loans up to £1,000,000; but actual loans are limited to £50,000, and are proposed only in connection with the "retail prices" section. The principal and interest of loans may be guaranteed for two purposes—for capital undertakings calculated to promote employment and for movements calculated to promote a reduction in retail prices.

In respect of each of these purposes an advisory committee is to be nominated by the Minister for Industry and Commerce jointly with the Minister for Finance.

Section 1 provides in its first sub-section that if the Minister for Industry and Commerce, after consultation with the committee, "is satisfied that the proceeds of any loan proposed to be raised, whether within or outside Saorstat Eireann, by any public authority or by any corporation or any other body of persons, corporate or unincorporate, are to be applied towards or in connection with the carrying out of any capital undertaking, or in connection with the purchase of articles manufactured or produced in Saorstat Eireann required for the purposes of any such undertaking, and that the application of the loan in the manner proposed is calculated to promote employment in Saorstat Eireann, the Minister for Industry and Commerce may guarantee in such manner and form and on such terms and conditions as he shall think proper, subject to the limitations hereinafter imposed, and subject to the sanction of the Minister for Finance, the repayment of the principal of such loan and the payment of the interest thereon or the repayment of such principal or the payment of such interest."

Further sub-sections read:—

"(2) The aggregate capital amount of the loans in respect of which guarantees may be given (whether as to principal and interest or as to principal only or as to interest only) under this section shall not exceed the sum of seven hundred and fifty thousand pounds.

"(3) No guarantee shall be given under this section after the expiration of twelve months from the passing of this Act.

"(4) No guarantee shall be given under this section in respect of a loan the proceeds or any part of the proceeds of which are intended to be used as working capital."

RETAIL PRICES.

The section in which reference is made to retail prices is Section 2, which reads as follows:—

"(1) If the Minister for Industry and Commerce, after consultation with an advisory committee nominated by him in conjunction with the Minister for Finance for the purposes of this section, is satisfied that any loan proposed to be raised by any public authority or any association (corporate or unincorporate) of producers, or of consumers, or of producers and consumers is calculated to promote a reduction in the retail prices in Saorstat Eireann of essential commodities, the Minister for Industry and Commerce may either—

(a) grant the loan upon such terms and conditions as to time and manner of repayment, rate of interest, security, and other matters whatsoever as he shall think proper; or

(b) guarantee in such manner and on such terms and conditions as he shall think proper the repayment of the principal of such loan and the payment of the interest thereon or the repayment of such principal or the payment of such interest, subject to the limitations imposed by this section and subject to the sanction of the Minister for Finance.

"(2) The aggregate capital amount of the loans granted under this section shall not exceed the sum of fifty thousand pounds, and the total aggregate capital amount of loans granted under this section and of loans in respect of which guarantees are given (whether as to principal and interest or as to principal only or as to interest only) under this section shall not exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand pounds.

"(3) No loan shall be granted or guarantee given under this section after the expiration of twelve months from the passing of this Act."

In Section 3 provision is made for the issue of requisite sums out of the Central Fund, and power is given to the Minister for Finance to borrow money by means of the issue of such securities as he thinks proper for the purpose, the principal and interest to be charged on the Central Fund. Fees may be prescribed and made payable on application for a loan, and also on the giving of guarantees and the granting of loans. A further section provides for statements and accounts to be laid before the Oireachtas.

The second stage of the bill has been put down for to-morrow, and, in view of the peculiar wording of the bill, the Minister's statement as to the kind of proposals he expects will find favour is awaited with interest. This is especially the case with regard to the "retail prices" section, since President Cosgrave, in reply to Major Cooper the other day, indicated that this is the only measure dealing with retail prices that may be expected from the Government, and that no "Profiteering Bill" of the kind hinted at repeatedly is now to appear.

IRISH FREE STATE AND WASHINGTON.

MR. DESMOND FITZGERALD IN LONDON.

Sir Henry Craik, in the House of Commons yesterday, asked the Colonial Secretary if the Irish Free State Government had applied to send a separate representative of the Free State to Washington; if this proposal had been assented to by the British Government; and if it was proposed that the representative of the Free State should have an independent position at Washington.

Mr. Thomas said that the answer to the first and second parts of the question was in the affirmative. The other points raised were the subject of discussion with the Minister of External Affairs of the Irish Free State, who was at the moment in London. He was not, therefore, prepared to answer further questions that day.

Sir Henry Craik asked whether the Minister considered it consistent with the unity of the Empire that diplomatic relations should be carried out through, not one channel, but numerous channels.

Mr. Thomas—This is giving effect to the Treaty with the Irish Free State, made by the previous Government, and our only and obvious duty is to give effect, in spirit and letter, to that Treaty.

DOUBLE INCOME TAX.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR GIVING RELIEF.

Sir William Davison, in the House of Commons, asked the Colonial Secretary whether he had been able to make arrangements with the Irish Free State authorities to avoid the double assessment of super-tax in both Great Britain and the Irish Free State, of all property in both countries, in the case of persons who have property in the Free State as well as in Great Britain.

Mr. Graham, who replied, said:—I would refer the hon. member to the reply which was given to a question asked by him on the 2nd of June. I explained in that reply that, under the arrangements made between this country and the Irish Free State for giving relief in respect of double taxation of income, the effective rate of super-tax charged is taken into account in determining the individual appropriate rate of tax for purposes of relief. I fear that it would not be practicable to make arrangements which would avoid the making of assessment by super-tax in both countries, in the case of persons who are liable to that tax under the laws of both countries.

Answering further questions, Mr. Graham said that, as the income tax laws stand in different countries, it is difficult to avoid making separate assessments. He thought that justice was done if they arrived at an agreement in regard to the actual payment.

£130,000 FOR ROYAL VISIT.

CRITICISM OF RUMANIAN SOVEREIGN'S TOUR.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BUCHAREST, Sunday.

The visit of the King and Queen of Rumania to London and Paris cost the Rumanian Government a hundred and fifty lei (about £130,000). The expenses account of the Rumanian Sovereigns for these visits, according to the Rumanian Government returns, shows that the £130,000 was mainly spent on entertaining festivities in London and Paris, their special train around Europe, afternoon teas, tips, etc.

Outspoken politicians here refer to the visit as a failure from the point of view that all the London bankers refuse to consider a floating loan to Rumania so long as the Government continues to repudiate its debt.

As a result, it is stated in official circles that the King has definitely decided to dismiss the Bratiano Government and call the new National Peasant Party into power. The King hopes that the new Government will secure the Russian recognition of the Rumanian annexation of Bessarabia.

THE LAURENTIC.

NEARLY £5,000,000 IN GOLD SALVED.

Mr. Snowden, M.P., in reply to a question by Sir Frederic Wise, states that gold to the value of £4,898,000 has been salved from the steamship Laurentic to date. The amount remaining to be salved is £98,000.

MOUNT EVEREST DISASTER.

MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY FROM THE KING.

Sir Francis Younghusband has received the following message from His Majesty:—

"The King is greatly distressed to hear the sad news of the death of Mr. Mallory and Mr. Irvine, who lost their lives in making a final attempt to reach the summit of Mount Everest.

"His Majesty asks whether you will be good enough to convey to the families of these two gallant explorers, as well as to the Mount Everest Committee, an expression of his sincere sympathy. They will ever be remembered as fine examples of mountaineers, ready to risk their lives for their companions, and to face dangers on behalf of science and discovery."

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. ROYCE, M.P.

ON HIS WAY TO HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. W. S. Royce, Labour member for Holland-within-Boston, who had been officially offered the Governorship of Tasmania, died suddenly in London yesterday afternoon while on his way to the House of Commons.

Arriving at King's Cross from Lincolnshire, Mr. Royce was going in a 'bus to Westminster when he was seen to be ill, and the 'bus was stopped. A doctor was summoned, and Mr. Royce was removed in an ambulance to the Royal Free Hospital, where he was found to be dead. The body was placed in the mortuary of the institution pending an inquiry.

Aged 67, Mr. Royce was a native of Spalding, where in early life he worked as a joiner. Later he went to South Africa, and was concerned with large railway and building contracts He became a landowner in his native country, and twice contested the Spalding Division as Unionist without success. Just before the 1918 election he joined the Labour Party, because he considered that it had the better policy for the agricultural community, and he was elected Labour member for Holland-within-Boston.

The Colonial Secretary (Mr. J. H. Thomas) was profoundly shocked when told of the death of Mr. Royce. "The Prime Minister and I learnt," he said, "to appreciate his sterling qualities when we were together on a Labour mission in Czecho-Slovakia. His death is a loss to the whole Labour movement."

CLAN MacMILLAN.

ALL MEMBERS OF CREW SAVED.

The crew of the steamer Clan MacMillan, which disappeared in the Bay of Bengal last Saturday, have been saved.

Details of the circumstances in which the Clan MacMillan was lost are lacking, but from messages sent by Reuter's Correspondents at Calcutta and Rangoon, it appears that she struck the Preparis shoal, and was so badly damaged that, despite the fact that the pumps were kept working at full pressure, she sank in a few hours.

The crew escaped in the boats. The Bibby liner Leicestershire and five other steamers began the search for them on Saturday. No trace of them could be found at the Clan MacMillan's last reported position, and a large area was swept.

Yesterday morning the Burma Oil Company's tanker, Minhla, discovered sixty of the crew in boats some distance south of the mouth of the Irrawady, and took them to Rangoon. A few hours later another vessel rescued the captain and sixteen men, whose boat had drifted away from the other boats. Thus all the members of the ship's company are safe.

TRINITY COLLEGE, DUBLIN.

THE DONNELLAN LECTURES.

The Donnellan Lectures for 1924 upon "The Manichees, and their Religion" will be delivered in Trinity College to-day and on the three succeeding days, by Mr. F. Crawford Burkitt, D.D., F.B.A., Norrisian Professor of Divinity in the University of Cambridge.

An introductory lecture, illustrated with lantern slides, will be given in the Graduates' Memorial Hall to-day at four o'clock p.m. The other lectures will be delivered in the Regent House, as follows, at the same hour:—Wednesday, June 25th—History, geographical distribution, sources. Manichæan ideas about the Past. Thursday, June 26th—Manichæan ideas about the Present and the Future. Friday, June 27th—Origin of the Manichæan system. Early Mesopotamian Christianity. Value of the Manichæan Philosophy of Religion. The lectures will be open to the public.

BIG NEW WIRELESS STATION.

TWO-VALVE SETS IN IRELAND WILL PICK UP PROGRAMMES.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Monday.

The British Broadcasting Company's new high power station at Chelmsford will not be opened this week, after all, owing to a delay in the delivery of certain necessary materials.

"We can only say now that it will be opened as near to July 1 as possible," said an official of the company to-day. "There will be no special programme opening for the simple reason that we can only experiment to begin with."

If the experiments are successful crystal sets should be able to pick up the British Broadcast Company's programme at one hunred miles from the station, while one-valve sets will take it at two hundred miles, and a two-valve set from anywhere in the British Isles.

Concerts may be sent from London over land lines to be broadcasted from Chelmsford, while relay stations, where they still prove to be necessary, will be fed from Chelmsford by wireless.

The first experiments will be carried out on a 1,600 metre wave length, with a power of 25 watts—more than 16 times greater than that now used by the London Broadcasting Station.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

LABOUR GOVERNMENT'S DEFEAT

ON HOUSING BILL PROCEDURE.

MR. WHEATLEY AND THE BUILDING TRADE.

FROM OUR PARLIAMENTARY CORRESPONDENT.

WESTMINSTER, Monday.

In the House of Commons this afternoon the heat wave had quite an effect, for light summer suits were in the majority, and the members inside them seemed to be greatly pleased with themselves.

Mr. R. Richards informed Mr. Lansbury that the Secretary for India was arranging for a transcript of the recent judgment of Mr. Justice McCardie in the O'Dwyer-Nair case to be furnished to the Government of India, who would, no doubt, consider whether any observations on it might appear to be called for.

The Government's solution to the housing problem was put forward by Mr. Wheatley this evening in a speech full of confidence. He prided himself upon the fact that the Labour Government had been able to achieve what no other Government had done—viz., to bring about an agreement between the builders and workmen calculated to give the nation the number of houses it required. The bill, explained the Minister of Health, proposed to amend the financial provisions of the 1923 Act by extending the period during which a subsidy was to be paid on houses, conforming to the conditions laid down, and it relieved the local authority of the obligation of satisfying the Minister of Health that private enterprise could not provide the houses required. It was essential that the houses should only be let to people who intended to reside in them, and the rents charged would be such as the tenants could afford to pay.

The main object of the Bill, said Mr. Wheatley, was to secure continuity in the building of working-class dwellings, and the industry had undertaken to keep to a definite programme of construction. Short of a system of nationalisation, the Government had done everything possible to ensure an abundance of labour and material. There never was a scheme so protected as this, and he considered that, so far from retarding private enterprise, his proposals promoted it. His own opinion was that private enterprise was out of date, and ought to be scrapped, but as the country seemed to desire it he had done his best to secure it.

REJECTION MOVED.

A direct negative to the Bill was moved by Lord Eustace Percy in an amendment suggesting that the Bill removed none of the real difficulties in regard to labour and materials, and that an excessive burden was being thrown upon the State and on local authorities, without any guarantee that there would be an adequate supply of houses. The Bill, he said, was really a milestone in the wrong direction, and the Government had shown a complete misconception of the needs of the country. In fact, it was impossible to come to any other conclusion than that the Minister, when he spoke of all parties cooperating in a measure of this kind, was really talking with his tongue in his cheek.

Mr. Masterman, speaking from the Liberal benches, made considerable fun of the Conservative efforts in the housing line, but at the same time he had no great faith in the Government's scheme. His own view was that the better course was to provide cheap money for anyone prepared to build houses and let them at an economic rent.

He did not at all favour the type of small brick boxes contemplated by the Bill, and was quite unable to understand the fierce and bitter hatred which certain members of the Labour Party exhibited towards people who desired to live in their own houses. Equal facilities should be given to a man who wished to buy a house for his own occupation, and to him whose aim was to become a municipal tenant. He stated that he intended to vote for the second reading of the bill, but would certainly ask that the Committee stage should be taken on the floor of the House.

Mr. Masterman's attitude roused the resentment of Mr. Maxton, one of the Clydesiders, who suggested that the right hon. gentleman should fight the bill straight, and drop this "damned subterfuge."

Mr. Sexton deprecated the parrot cry from the Conservative Benches as to the necessity of maintaining private enterprise, seeing that private enterprise was responsible for the present housing problem. Once, said Mr. Sexton, he lived in Liverpool, in one room, below the pavement, with a sewer in the corner, and six in a bed, and a rent of 7s. 6d. a week was paid for that room.

Mr. Austen Hopkinson ran full tilt against the Government's policy, and declared that if the truth were known Mr. Wheatley did not want the bill to pass, because of the advantage its rejection would give him at an election.

The Speaker considered the remark a reflection on the honour of the Minister of Health, and Mr. Hopkinson withdrew it.

TWO SUGGESTIONS.

There were two concrete suggestions in the course of the subsequent debate. Mr. Sunlight, the Liberal member for Shrewsbury, advocated the creation of five thousand small firms, recruited from the rank and file of bricklayers and carpenters, and financing them to the extent of £1,000 each, under the provisions of the Trade Facilities Act. This, the hon. member believed, would result in a production of at least 100,000 houses per annum.

Mr. Wragg (Conservative) considered that piece-work payments would effect a marvellous improvement in building construction.

Sir W. Joynson-Hicks saw nothing good in the bill, and said that though it might not be murdered, it was extremely likely that it would die of ricketts. He much preferred the Conservative scheme, and he believed it would yet be a Conservative Government which would solve the housing problem. This bill he described as a gigantic gamble, put forward in the hope of inducing people to believe that only the Labour Party could produce houses.

A good deal had been said during the discussion as to the propriety of taking the bill in a Committee of the Whole House, but Mr. Clynes could not agree to such a course. It would mean asking Parliament to sit until the middle of September, and he enumerated a long list of other measures to which the Government were already committed.

The second reading was carried by 269 votes to 206.

Much more interest attached to the division on the question whether the bill should go to a Committee upstairs, or be discussed on the floor of the House. It had been anticipated that the Conservatives and Liberals would join forces to defeat the Government on this point. The anticipation was justified by the result. The figures were:—

For the motion	315
Against	175
Opposition majority	140

The result was received with loud cheers.

EFFECTS OF THE DEFEAT.

Once again has the Government suffered defeat—the fifth time since its assumption of office. Continual reverses of this kind are bound to react upon the Administration, and the fact that to-night's set-back was due to the Liberals combining with the Unionists shows how precarious is the position of the Government. The result of the division prompted certain joyful Unionists to remark—"The worm has turned at last." The effect of the defeat is that the Housing Bill Committee stage will be taken on the floor of the House, instead of in a Committee room upstairs. This will certainly mean that the rising of the Commons will be seriously delayed. Lobby opinion to-night was that it would be the end of August before the House would be able to adjourn.

THE DUBLIN SHIPYARDS.

The shipyard workers' section of the Irish Transport Union will meet to-night to discuss the proposed early re-opening of the Dublin shipyards.

NEW GOVERNOR OF TRINIDAD.

Sir Horace Archer Byatt, the Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Tanganika territory, has been appointed Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Trinidad and Tobago, in succession to Colonel Sir Samuel Herbert Wilson, who was recently appointed to a post in Jamaica.

PIRATES BOLD.

PLOT TO STEAL CRUISER MISCARRIES.

SHANGHAI, Monday.

What might be described as the limit of daring, so far achieved by Chinese pirates, has been their recent attempt to capture the largest cruiser of the Chinese Navy, the Haichi, off Phefoo.

Choosing as the occasion of their efforts a holiday, when they expected that the crew of the Haichi would be ashore on leave, a gang of 33 pirates commandeered a small Chinese steamer at the point of the revolver, and forced her captain to procced towards where the cruiser lay.

The crew, however, had not been granted leave, and so the pirates were forced to abandon their attempt. The alarm had meanwhile been given, and the police charged the gang as they landed. Nine pirates were captured, but the remainder, including the leader, escaped.—(Reuter.)

BRITISH TRAWLERS.

POSITION IN FREE STATE WATERS.

Lord Stanley, having asked the Colonial Secretary whether he was aware of the great discontent prevalent in the British trawler-fishing industry, arising out of the restrictions imposed on British trawlers fishing in Irish waters outside of the three-mile limit, which are not imposed on foreign trawlers, and whether he would make representations to the Irish Free State Government that this inequality should be removed,

Mr. Thomas writes, in reply, that the restrictions referred to are enforceable under by-laws made by the Irish Department of Agriculture in the days before the control of that body had been transferred to the Government of the Irish Free State. After the establishment of the Free State His Majesty's Government took legal advice on the constitutional question, whether the Fishery Acts and the by-laws made thereunder, before December, 1922, are continued in force in the Irish Free State, with the same extra-territorial effect as before the establishment of the Free State. The advice received was to the effect that the Acts and by-laws in question remain as part of the law of the Irish Free State, but that no further by-laws can be made with extra-territorial effect by the Government of that Dominion.

The Free State Government were informed in September last of the nature of this advice, and were asked whether they concurred in it. Their reply, received ten days ago, stated that they saw no reason to dissent from the views held by His Majesty's Government, and that they are accordingly taking steps to prosecute offenders against the by-laws. The restrictions at present imposed upon British fishermen are, therefore, identical with those which were enforced when the British Government was responsible for Irish fishing administration, and the position of foreign trawlers is similarly unchanged. He was aware of no grounds on which His Majesty's Government would be justified in asking the Government of the Irish Free State to refrain from exercising its rights in the protection of the native fishing industry.

HOUSING SCHEME STOPPED.

MARINO DISPUTE UNSETTLED.

So far as is known there has been no move to settle the Irish Workers' Union and Transport Union dispute, which led, on Wednesday last, to a strike of 400 labourers and the complete suspension of the Dublin Corporation's scheme for the housing of 1,500 poor families at Marino, Clontarf.

The strictest secrecy has been observed by both unions regarding the position of affairs, but it is reported that the strikers will receive dispute benefit from the Irish Workers' Union, and may hold out for some time.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS IN THE DAIL.

BY OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT.

General Mulcahy has handed in the notices of motion concerning which he declared his intention last Tuesday, in his comments on the Army Inquiry report. He stated then that he would table spearate motions with regard to the three officers who were removed from their membership of the Army Council, to say that they should "be restored to the commissions and positions they were taken from in the Army."

The text of the notices of motion will be printed in the Dail Order Paper to-day. They come under the head of Private Members' Business. In that position they are preceded by the adjourned motion and amendment on the boundary question. Private members' business ordinarily is taken on Wednesday and Friday, but the leader of the House has already stated that he will require all the time to-morrow for Government business.

On the Order Paper to-day is a large number of bills in progress, including the Defence Forces Bill and the Rates on Agricultural Land Bill, in Committee, and the Intoxicating Liquor Bill, which is in course of debate on the second stage.

To-morrow the Dail will discuss the second report of the Joint Committee on the Temporary Accommodation of the Oireachtas.

The Senate will meet to-morrow, when its business will include the report stage of the Garda Siochana Bill, deferred from last week. Amendments made by the Select Committee to which the bill was referred have raised in an acute form—according to the Chairman's statement last week—a constitutional question concerning the rights of the Senate and its control in matters of public expenditure which are presented in bills, other than certified Money Bills. The Committee stage of the Railways Bill will be taken on Thursday.

A special meeting of the Brewers' Association of Ireland was held yesterday in Dublin for the purpose of considering the Licensing Bill. The various provisions of the bill were discussed at length, and it was decided to send a letter to Mr. Kevin O'Higgins, setting forth their objections to many of these, and their reasons for objecting.

THE MATTEOTTI CASE.

TEN ARRESTS: CENSORSHIP ENDED.

ROME, Monday.

According to the newspapers the political situation is daily improving, and the majority of public opinion is satisfied with the energetic action of the Government, and has confidence in the measures taken for the re-establishment of a moral and orderly state of affairs.

Up to the present ten arrests have been made in connection with the Matteotti affair, and searches are being made for two other suspected persons.

The censorship of foreign Press telegrams has been abolished.—(Reuter.)

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

MAHARAJAH OF BIKANER TO ATTEND.

It is understood, says The Times, that Major-General the Mahrajah of Bikaner will represent the Ruling Princes of India at the next meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva.

WERNHER BABY ADMITTED TO UNITED STATES.

NEW YORK, Monday.

By direction of Mr. Davis, Secretary of Labour, Lady Wernher and her baby have been permitted to enter the United States under parole, notwithstanding the fact that the baby, under the quota regulations, was technically not entitled to enter.—(Reuter.)

CANADIAN POSTAL STRIKE.

OTTAWA, Monday.

The postmen on strike at Toronto and Windsor are still out, as well as some at Montreal, but these are now the only cities affected by the strike. At Montreal normal deliveries are again being made, a substitute staff of 500 men having been engaged.

A number of strikers are applying for reinstatement, but the Government insist that if they return they will only have the rank and standing of new recruits.—(Reuter.)

TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND.

M. HERRIOT'S SATISFACTION.

The Times says:—Before his departure M. Herriot took occasion to say once again how thoroughly satisfied he was with the result of his visit, and how greatly he had enjoyed meeting Mr. Macdonald. These expressions are more than the customary tribute of politeness from a visiting statesman. There is every reason to believe that the two Prime Ministers found in the course of their conversations that they had a very great deal in common, that there was very little difference in their general outlook, and that they would discuss with constant sympathy and swift mutual understanding a wide range of subjects. The one definite conclusion that was reached was that the Dawes report must be put into operation with the least possible delay.

In regard to other burning questions suggestions were exchanged, possible solutions were adumbrated, and form was given to a common hope in the League of Nations. The detailed preparations for the Allied Conference decided on at Chequers will depend on the result of consultations with the Belgian and Italian Governments, and will be carried out through the ordinary diplomatic channels.

GENERAL SMUTS'S POSITION.

REASONS FOR REACTION AGAINST HIM.

The Times, in a leading article on General Smuts, says:—General Smuts is still a young man, as the age of Prime Ministers has been reckoned in the past, and a period of leisure and travel, if possible, through the other Dominions of the British Commonwealth would serve, not only himself, but South Africa, far better than a rush to return to the Parliamentary conflict in the first few months of opposition. He has capable lieutenants, and his position will be safe enough in their hands. Meanwhile, he has the chance which may never recur to see something at first hand of other parts of that Empire to which he belongs from intellectual conviction and to which he has rendered such conspicuous service.

The main reason for the present reaction against him is unquestionably the strong popular tendency prevailing everywhere—much exaggerated since the war and peculiarly effective in the case of General Smuts—to be tired of the man who has held the helm for any considerable period. There were many contributory causes, as everyone who knows South Africa can understand. But, when everything has been said in explanation of his defeat, he remains incomparably the most considerable figure on the South African stage, and one who has exalted, not only himself, but his country by his labours for the peace of the world.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

MR. M'ADOO'S POSITION.

The Washington Correspondent of The Times writes:—The religious issue has in the last twenty-four hours become the question of greatest interest and of most immediate danger to the Democratic Convention which opens here to-morrow morning.

An attempt is to be made, first in the Committee on resolutions, whose duty is the drafting of the platform, and later on the floor of the Convention, to secure the adoption of a plank specifically and openly denouncing the Ku Klux Klan, and while the immediate objective of this attempt is to drive Mr McAdoo into a corner, the ultimate effect must be lamentable and far-reaching.

Mr. McAdoo spoke to hundreds of his supporters last night at the Vanderbilt Hotel, where he makes his headquarters, and the burden of his complaint was that his opponents—Wall street and its obedient Metropolitan newspapers—were attempting to create false rage and religious issues. Yet it is beyond doubt that much of his strength is derived from the Klan, whose violent antipathy to Roman Catholics, Jews, and negroes, has raised the question of "the right to religious worship," and, if he is content to accept reinforcement from such a quarter, it is difficult to see how he can escape the consequences. If it is humanly possible, he will be forced to declare himself for or against the Klan, and either way it will cost him dear.

MR. CUMMINS OUT OF MEXICO.

THE CASE OF MRS. EVANS.

Mr. Cummins, the late British Diplomatic Agent in Mexico, when he arrived at Laredo, on the Texan frontier, yesterday, on his way to New York, made little comment on the circumstances surrounding his departure from Mexico, writes the New York Correspondent of The Times.

He is reported to have said that it was merely a passing incident, and that he hoped the public would divert its attention from him to the many thousands of Mexicans who were suffering under impossible conditions. The Mexican Government had stated that he had stood in the way of the settlement of Mrs. Rosalie Evans's case. Now that he was gone it would have complete liberty to make a just settlement, provided that it had been sincere in its statement. At this moment, he said, the agrarian who had been placed in possession of land belonging to Mrs. Evans had maize growing nearly 4 feet high, and the lady had never received any compensation for her confiscated property.

DISORDERS IN TURIN.

FASCISTI IN RIOTOUS MOOD.

Serious disorders occurred in Turin late on Saturday night and early on Sunday morning, says The Times Correspondent at Milan. Bands of Fascisti appeared in the streets, and entered the cafés and restaurants, terrorising and assaulting the occupants. Many persons were injured, some twenty being removed in a serious condition. Fascisti held a meeting in the Balbo Theatre yesterday. After the meeting a strong column of Fascisti tried to storm the offices of the Stampa, but were driven back by the carabinieri. At the same time some Fascisti in a motor car raided the private residence of Senator Frassiti, proprietor and editor of the Stampa. The Senator was out of town, but his wife and his son, a young student, were indoors. The Fascisti began breaking up the furniture, but the young Frassiti succeeded in disarming one of the assailants, and finally they left.

Senator Frassiti, lately Italian Ambassador in Berlin, is a Constitutional Liberal, a friend and supporter of Signor Giolitti. Minor Fascist violence is reported from other parts of the country.

A NEW PENSIONS BILL.

The Political Correspondent of the Daily Mail writes:—The belief that the bill for the removal of the thrift disqualification for old age pensions will raise the means limit from £1 to 30s. only, is causing great dissatisfaction among many of the Socialist Party, and it was stated last night that the Government has taken fright at this and is prepared to go further in its proposals. Raising the means limit from £1 to £2 would, it is estimated, cost approximately £13,000,000, and since Mr. Snowden has only budgeted for a surplus of £4,000,000, this would mean piling up a big bill, which will have to be footed somehow next year. A full meeting of the Labour Party is to be held to-morrow, when the proposals will be submitted to them for approval. But the other parties are getting restive at the failure of the Government to conform to the practice of the House in placing the terms of the Money Resolution, on which the bill will be founded, on the Order Paper at least three days before the debate, which is down for to-morrow.

SPANISH BALLOON MISHAP.

ALICANTE, Monday.

A military balloon, in which were two majors and two captains, has crashed near Jijona. A major and captain sustained injuries.—(Reuter.)

IRISH MOUNTAIN MYSTERY.

MISSING MERCHANT'S BODY FOUND.

TWO YEAR OLD CRIME.

A grim discovery was made yesterday evening in a boghole near the top of a lonely mountain in South Armagh. Policemen, who were dragging the boghole with irons, brought to the surface the remains of Mr. J. W. Frazer, a merchant of Newtownhamilton, who has been missing since July 5th, 1922.

Mr. Frazer was kidnapped by a party of armed men while he was driving into Newry in a motor lorry, accompanied by one of his children. At the time armed bands were very active on the Northern border, and, despite the most extensive inquiries, no trace of Mr. Frazer could be had from the time that his child saw him drive away with his captors.

The discovery of the body was the result of information which reached Mr. Alexander Fisher, solicitor, who represented Mrs. Frazer, the widow, in her recent claim for £5,000 compensation.

When the claim was heard in the County Court an application was made on behalf of the Armagh County Council to have it dismissed on the ground that there was no evidence as to what had become of Mr. Frazer, but the presiding judge refused to do so, saying that the widow should get every opportunity of establishing her case, and he adjourned the hearing of the claim.

Mr. Frazer's identity, our Newry Correspondent is informed, has been definitely established. It could not be ascertained yesterday whether his death was due to drowning or to shooting.

An inquest will be held to-day.

THE ETIQUETTE OF SPORT.

INTERESTING FISHERY PROSECUTION.

A case of interest to owners and lessees of inland fisheries was heard at Bunclody Court, Co. Wexford, before Mr. J. V. Fahy.

Mr. W. E. Cochrane, the lessee from Lord Carew of a fishery on the River Slaney at Tombrick, summoned Mr. Arthur Chamberlain and Mr. Samuel L. Whymper for entering on his fishery for the purpose of taking fish without authority. The case was the subject of much local interest owing to the points of fishery law and customs involved. The defendants had travelled from England to inspect a fishery owned by Mr. Atkinson, Clobemon Hall, on the opposite bank to that of Mr. Cochrane, and were fishing, by wading in the water, near Mr. Atkinson's bank. The complainant objected to this on the ground that the wader must of necessity cast beyond the centre of the river, and he stated in evidence that he had never known a person to wade unless he owned both banks of the river.

Mr. J. R. Brennan, solicitor for the defendants, said that Mr. Chamberlain was known in the commercial world as the manager of Kynocks and other industrial undertakings. Mr. Whymper was a well-known Indian naturalist and ornithologist. Their defence was that wading was neither illegal nor against the etiquette of sport. For Mr. Whymper it was denied that he cast beyond the centre of the river. Mr. Chamberlain admitted having done so, but said that it was not unsportsmanlike. He had considerable experience of English and Scottish rivers, and wading was not objected to there.

Mr. B. J. O'Flaherty, the complainant's solicitor, said that Mr. Cochrane was bound by the terms of his lease from Lord Carew to prosecute all trespassers.

The District Justice expressed his regret that the parties had not settled the case, and he was sure that the defendants had no desire to act dishonourably. He fined Mr. Whymper (who had been found wading on two occasions) £1 and costs, and dismissed the case against Mr. Chamberlain on the ground that it was purely a technical offence.

Mr. Brennan intimated that the defendants would consider having a case stated, and the District Justice agreed to do so if they so desired.

JAPAN AND AMERICA.

BITTER FEELING IN TOKIO.

TOKIO, Monday.

The Japanese murders at Los Angeles, where the bodies of two Japanese who had been shot dead were discovered recently, are understood to have been the outcome of a quarrel between Japanese, according to information from official sources.

Reports of these incidents have naturally found a prompt echo here, epecially in the reactionary Press, which sensationally displayed the news, and commented on it with vigour. The more moderate papers published no comment, or else counselled self-control in the absence of details.

As soon as the reports were received extra precautions were taken for the maintenance of order, especially in hotels and the residences of Americans, who have been assured by officials that every provision will be made to ensure complete control of the radical elements.—(Reuter.)

"TETROSAN."

NEW METHOD OF FIGHTING CONSUMPTION.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BUDAPEST, Monday.

There has recently appeared in the principal medical journal of Hungary an account of a new treatment for all kinds of tuberculous disease, including gland, bone, and lung affections, which has been applied during the past three years by a young Budapest physician, Dr. Aladar Baneth.

During a visit to Budapest I have taken the opportunity to ask Dr. Baneth, who is 28 years of age, to explain his treatment. He stated that during his student days he spent much time in research in the so-called "specific anti-toxin" treatment of tuberculosis, but subsequently turned his attention particularly to chemical therapeutic methods.

The treatment, which has finally resulted, is a simple injection into a vein of a liquid which he has named "Tetrosan," containing three chemical agents. These, he said, evolve in the body itself a fourth agent with very powerful antiseptic action.

According to his own description, the liquid is disseminated in the blood stream throughout the whole body, into all the diseased tissues, even into those whose blood and lymphatic vessels, being destroyed, could not be reached hitherto.

He likened the process to a gas attack from within on the disease germs.

"Tetrosan," he added, does not at once absolutely destroy the bacilli, for an agent acting so powerfully would injure or even destroy essential organs, but it reduces the vitality of the bacilli to such a degree that the organism is able to assert itself effectively.

Dr. Baneth stated that during the past three years at least 30 definite cures have been recorded. I was given an opportunity to talk with six of these ex-patients, whose record I was assured might be taken as typical.

"NO MENACE TO FRANCE."

GERMAN CHANCELLOR'S REPLY TO GEN. NOLLET.

BERLIN, Monday.

Interviewed on the subject of the Allied military control of Germany, Dr. Marx, the German Chancellor, referred to an interview recently given by General Nollet to an English newspaper, and said that the General, after nearly five years' stay in Germany, could not possibly have the impression that Germany's present military position was a danger to the security of France.

"General Nollet," he proceeded, "must know well that troops which have any military value must also have the spirit of attack, even if, like the Reichswehr, they have only defensive tasks. I will not go at length into details as regards General Nollet's remarks on the alleged military character of the police, on the alleged military instruction of sporting associations, or on the menace German industry is supposed to constitute, as regards the supply of war materials.

"Any unprejudiced person must surely agree that, besides an army of 100,000 men for the maintenance of internal order, administrative units (verwaltungskoerper) of altogether 150,000 men are necessary in a big State, with strong internal political strife.

"These figures," Dr. Marx went on, "do not signify any danger to France, because the members of these administrative units cannot be used for military purposes at all, and because the police have not the slightest organic connection with the Reichswehr. The physical instruction of youths in athletic and sporting clubs certainly has greater importance to-day after the abolition of military service, but, even then, only from the point of view of the nation's health.

"As regards German industry, it has now really turned its attention to peace production—a fact which General Nollet's officers must be well aware of."

Dr. Marx concluded by saying that he earnestly hoped that General Nollet would take an opportunity to correct the misunderstandings created in practically every sentence of the interview, for upon his attitude and utterances would largely depend whether or not the German people were to be convinced that the aims and methods of the new French Government were different from those of its predecessors. It is our honest endeavour, he declared, to convince the German people of this, and it is an essential condition for the policy of understanding which we and the overwhelming majority of the German people are following with absolute sincerity.—(Reuter.)

RUSSIAN BLUFF.

ANGLO-SOVIET CONFERENCE AWAITING DEVELOPMENTS.

FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.
LONDON, Monday.

I understand that the Anglo-Russian Conference is now awaiting developments of the struggle in Moscow between the extremists and the moderates.

The extremists are opposed to any divergence from the Communist doctrine, believing they can get a loan by bluff and threats, while the moderates are urging concessions to meet the actual conditions.

Litvinoff, who belongs to the moderate party, has gone back to Moscow to make his report, and it is probable that before long the whole delegation will be recalled, ostensibly to report to their chiefs, but really to be replaced by new men, the leaders of whom are expected to be Krassin and Litvinoff.

Rakovski is still negotiating with the Chairman of the British Creditors' Russian Committee, and it has been agreed that Russia shall find five million pounds to satisfy the small creditors.

The news of the dissensions in Moscow have got abroad in English financial circles, and it is now believed that much more than was expected can be gained from Russia by a display of firmness.

EMPIRE PREFERENCE.

BIGWIN, ONTARIO, Monday.

Addressing the convention of Canadian wholesale grocers, Mr. McCrea (Ontario), Minister of Mines, said that Canada should not take seriously the abolition of the McKenna tariff and the defeat of the Empire preference plan. He declared that while in England men of standing told him that it was only a matter of time before Dominion preference became a recognised policy.—(Reuter.)

Last night the Industrial group in the House of Commons adopted a resolution expressing disappointment that the Government had not carried out the resolutions of the Imperial Economic Conference. It added that it is convinced that Imperial Preference will be adopted in the near future.

MEXICAN INCIDENT.

MR. CUMMINS IN THE UNITED STATES.

CASE OF MRS. EVANS.

Mr. Macdonald, replying to Lieutenant-Colonel Howard Bury in the House of Commons yesterday, said that he had nothing to add to the very full statement he made on Thursday about the situation in Mexico, except that Mr. Cummins had left Mexico and had arrived in the United States, and the United States Legation at Mexico City had taken charge of the British Legation house and archives. His latest information with regard to Mrs. Evans was contained in a telegram from Mr. Cummins on June 3. The situation was then described as most critical. She and her servants were defending themselves on the roof of the house against a large number of agrarians. The Minister of War promised to send relief.

The farm had been expropriated on two separate grounds—(1) under the Agrarian Law for national purposes; and (2) in order to provide communal land. In neither case had any satisfactory offer of compensation been made, according to his information. He was glad to say that there was now no question of the Mexican authorities entering the British Legation house. He did not feel that the case of Mrs. Evans and of the Salinas of Mexico Company were suitable for submission to the League of Nations.

Colonel Howard Bury—Were not the differences between His Majesty's Government and the Mexican Government in the Act of Settlement when the unconditional recognition of Russia upset the whole of the agreement? Have all negotiations with Mexico now broken down?

Mr. Macdonald—As to the first part of the question, the hon. member is totally misinformed. As to the second part, it would be premature to make up my mind as to what should be done until I have had an interview with Mr. Cummins.

Mr. R. McNeill—As the information regarding Mrs. Evans is three weeks old, would it not be possible to get more recent information?

Mr. Macdonald—I have asked for it. I am sorry to say the information we have is three weeks old.

Sir Kingsley Wood—Is the Prime Minister aware that there are grave reports in the American papers this morning concerning the safety of Mrs. Evans, and cannot he expedite the obtaining of information as to the safety of a British subject?

Mr. Macdonald—I had done that before the American papers published any reports at all.

Mr. A. M. Samuel—Will the Prime Minister ask the American Government to use their best offices to secure the safety of this British subject?

Sir W. Davidson—Will the Prime Minister see that someone is held responsible for the life of this British subject, if anything happens to her? Are the Government alive to the duty of protecting British citizens?

No reply was made.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE TRADE FACILITIES BILL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Subsidies for traders in essential commodities have been a feature of commercial policy in this country for many years. The commodities most in demand could be produced and distributed on terms much more favourable to consumers if the really efficient traders were not hampered by the parasitic concerns that would perish in a week under measures taken to force prices down to a level that would still leave the efficient trader an attractive margin of profit. Money above this level extracted from consumers by the trading community is simply a subsidy to inefficiency and waste. It is estimated that in the bread trade alone this "subsidy" absorbs fully a halfpenny (i.e. 10 per cent.) of the price of every 2lb. loaf. Genuine competition would have eliminated it long ago, but "competition," as expounded in our economic treatises, has followed our old friends, "the economic man" and "the law of supply and demand" into the lumber-room of exploded theories. They have failed to stand the test of contact with the newer idea that "political economy was made for man, not man for political economy."

If there be a law of supply and demand, how is it that there are thousands of families in Dublin prepared to pay 4d.-5d. a quart for the thousands of quarts of new milk that are produced daily within "fresh milk" distance of the city; yet Dublin's rickety infantile population is deprived of a sufficiency of its one essential commodity, while bonhams in the Midlands and the South are literally wallowing in fresh milk served out to them by the gallon morning and evening? Surely, the demand is here, as the supply is certainly there. Fivepence a quart is a price that would yield a fair profit in a summer such as this—and milk-fed bacon is not yet an "essential commodity."—Yours, etc.,

"J. B. H."

LIFE IN THE FREE STATE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In your issue of the Irish Times of Wednesday, the 18th June, giving the debate in the Dail on the question of income tax, I see that, in the opinion of the Minister of Finance, people have not left the country on account of the extra sixpence in the £1, but "for the feeling of insecurity and fear of personal violence." I happen to know of a great number of people who, far from being disturbed by the alarums and excursions of 1916, continuing in varying measure until 1922—which, as these people were entirely non-political, affected them not at all—have now left, and are leaving, the country solely on account of the taxes. Of these the additional sixpence on income tax is undoubtedly the most inconvenient and vexatious, entailing not only the pecuniary loss to moderate incomes, but the trouble and delay involved in trying to recover the correct balance due on their securities in England.

Is it likely that Ireland will now be able to attract people who can live in England for half the cost? Apart from taxes, everything in Ireland is dearer—food of all kinds, coal, soap, boots and shoes, railway fares, house rent, dress, postages and motor cars. As regards the latter, the state of the roads certainly holds out no inducement to anyone to continue to reside, far less to take up residence, in the Emerald Isle. At any rate, let the Minister of Finance start by reducing the income tax to England's level and see the effect.—Yours, etc.,

"BIRD OF PASSAGE."

COMPULSORY IRISH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I am sure that many have read with serious interest in the Irish Times of the 19th June the letter of the Headmaster of the High School on compulsory Irish. All who hope for the welfare and future unity of Ireland must be concerned by this compulsion, which displays faith neither in the Irish language nor in the Irish people.

As manager of a small school in this parish, I had occasion last year to send a request to the Ministry of Education, signed by a majority of the parents whose children attended this school, that their children should not be compelled to learn Irish. . . . The parents acted on the profound conviction that the present education and future prosperity of the children were imperilled by compulsion to spend valuable time on a subject for which they had no aptitude and which may be of little or no use whatsoever to them in the future.

It is plain that our country is yet far from true freedom—so many within her borders are frankly intolerant. What hope is there for the future and for a united Ireland if the Ministry of Education have not the vision and courage to trust the instincts and desires of the people and not resort to coercive methods? Surely the Ministry will see that it is in the best interests of language and people that Irish be made a voluntary subject in the schools.—Yours, etc., S. F. HOWE, Ex-Sch., M.A.

DUBLIN THEATRES.

REVUE AT THE ROYAL.

Notwithstanding many outdoor attractions, large audiences accorded to the revue, "Zip," a flattering reception at the Theatre Royal last evening. The piece is officially described as "something new in revue," and no doubt there are many new doings and sayings in it; but although they make one laugh, their memory will not survive the passing hour. This revue consists of laughable absurdities and frivolities, ballet dances, and incidents which are common enough on the stage, but which bear not the remotest resemblance to real life. Yet it is not the less amusing on that account. The leading figure in the company is Billy Caryll, a clever comedian, who is, perhaps, rather prone to "broad" suggestion in his story-telling. He is ably seconded by Miss Hilda Mundy, whose share in the work is wholly good. The Yama Quintette and Mareski's violin playing form a most acceptable feature of the performance. Other members of the company who rendered good service were Jack Skelbo, Charles Weaver, Phillis Pleydell and Dora Dalaro.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

José El Kama, at the Queen's Theatre last evening, sang very acceptably two numbers, "'Neath Southern Skies" and "If I had the wings of a swallow," and, in response to an encore, she gave, with equal charm "My wonderful, wonderful love." The Geddes Brothers, in a vocal and instrumental "turn," proved themselves a capital pair of entertainers, their selections on mandolines, chimes, and musical plates being much appreciated. Joe Masterson, favourably known to Dublin audiences as "The Dame," created a good deal of merriment in his character song, "Ah! don't laugh," while Charles Grantley, who describes himself as the "erratic" comedian, put the "house" into the best of good humour with his clever sketches and character songs. The Bellinis gave an excellent equilibristic and gymnastic performance; Charles Ancaster introduced waltzing bottles and boomerangs, and Kathleen Rayburn gave acceptable songs and dances.

OLYMPIA THEATRE.

Pretty dresses, graceful dancing, together with comedy of the knockabout variety, are included in the programme of the musical comedy revue, "What Cheer," at the Olympia Theatre this week. Particularly attractive is the hunting song by Vernon Drake, assisted by a chorus. He also appears to advantage in other items. Hilda Gibson is a pleasing singer, with a good stage presence. George Clayton's rendering of the part of Mrs. Gossip is a feature of the revue. His "make up" and general attitude are capital. Most of the fun is provided by Hayes and Austin, Scottish comedians, who keep the audience in good humour throughout. Betty and Billy Clarke are dancers who really dance. There is also a clever troupe of juvenile entertainers.

TIVOLI THEATRE.

Les Eldons appeared last night in the Tivoli Theatre, where they gave an exhibition of skill in gymnastics. Norman White contributed a "turn" which combined ventriloquism and musical selections by his automaton. Bud Bennett and Bill Kelso, "Black and White-Faced Entertainers at the Piano," were very funny in their little sketch—"Don't Say a Word"—and kept their audiences greatly amused. Charlie and Vera were good in "Condensed Versatility," as were the Boon Boys, in "Melody and Movement." Bert Lloyd presented "Liars Beware," which is described as a laughing absurdity; and Jack Oswald, character comedian, was also included in the bill.

U.S. PRESIDENCY.

THE RIVAL DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
NEW YORK, Monday.

The boom for the Democratic Presidential nomination of Mr. John W. Davis, former American Ambassador in London, is growing at a rate alarming to the other contenders for the Democratic candidature.

The battle lines of the contending forces at the Democratic Convention appear to be definitely formed. Governor Smith's followers will stake all on their demand for a severe anti-Klan plank in their platform, and will carry this issue sharply in the McAdoo camp.

Facing this blunt challenge, Mr. McAdoo has denounced what he calls the injection of a religious issue into the convention. Without mentioning the Klan by name, he asserts that his opponents are trying to raise a false race and religious issue to obscure the real issue, which he says is the restoration of the administration of national affairs to the people from the control of a sinister, unscrupulous and invisible Government, which has its seat in Wall street.

There is talk of a boom for Charles W. Bryan, Governor of Nebraska, and brother of Mr. William Bryan. Mr. Bryan favours a compromise on the League of Nations question, with a plank declaring for an agreement of nations, without a specific pledge to the existing League.

THE LATE SIR DIGHTON PROBYN.

The body of General Sir Dighton Probyn was removed from Sandringham House yesterday morning, and conveyed by ordinary train, arriving at Liverpool street at 2.20. The body was enclosed in lead and ash shells, with an outer coffin of unpolished oak. The coffin was borne to Wolferton Station on an open bier, drawn by a pony which Sir Dighton had driven in his small phæton during recent years. His coachman led the pony, and footmen at Sandringham House acted as pall bearers. A silk Union Jack enshrouded the coffin, on which were floral tributes from Queen Alexandra, the household staff and the estate people. Tenantry and people to the number of 350 followed the remains to the station, where a brief Service was conducted by the rector of Wolferton.

A BANK IN AN HOTEL.

For the first time in the history of banking a branch bank is to be opened in an hotel. This step has been taken by the Union Bank of Scotland Limited, who are shortly to open a branch in the London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company's big new sports hotel at Gleneagles, Perthshire. Commenting on this decision, an official of the bank said that the only approach to an hotel bank that he knew was the branch banks which had been installed in some of the bigger Atlantic liners. He thought that the new branch would be of considerable convenience to existing clients, for the opening of credits and to the hotel's guests generally.

A prisoner, with handcuffs on the left wrist, escaped from a taxicab while being conveyed from Leeds Station to Armley Jail yesterday.

A SEIZED MOTOR LORRY.

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED.

At the Dublin Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Cooper, K.C., Patrick O'Neill, Kelly's Cottages, off James's street, was returned for trial for having, while armed with a revolver, on the 10th May, taken from John Gunning, 18 Bonham street, a motor lorry, the property of Denis Murphy, 11 Queen street. He was further charged with negligent driving of the lorry, as a result of which he knocked down and injured Esther Clancy, E House, Marshalsea Barracks, off Thomas street; Bridget Monks, Jane McMahon, and Michael Mills.

John Gunning stated that at 10.15 p.m. on 10th May last he was "held up" by three armed men in his yard. They removed his lorry, saying that they wanted to do a job. The prisoner was one of the men.

Evidence was given to the effect that the lorry was driven in a zig-zag manner along Meath street, where it mounted the footway and knocked down and injured the women named.

Detective Officer O'Connor said that when arrested at Tullamore the prisoner denied all knowledge of the charge. In the train on the way to Dublin he said: "I might as well tell you the truth. On a Saturday night, about a month ago, I was sent by Captain Connolly, O.C. H Co. 3rd Batt., 6 Harcourt street, to get a motor to remove stuff from St. Stephen's Green to Rathfarnham. I went to Bonham street, where I knew there was a car. I went in and met Gunning in the yard. I told him we wanted the car to do a job. He knew who I was, and said: 'Take that one,' pointing to the red lorry. As I was going out with the car Gunning said to me: 'If you are caught I will say that three armed men held me up in the yard.' I said 'All right.' I took the car, done the job, and coming back through Meath street lost control and ran into the wall. I then got out and ran up Meath street towards home. Some boys went to stop me, and I told them that I would plug them, as I had the gun I was supplied with by the captain. They then went away and I went back to my captain, gave him the gun, and told him what happened. He said that I should not have taken any drink, as I was under the influence of drink at the time. I did not know that I knocked down anybody, and if I did I am sorry. The steering rod must have gone out of order."

Mr. Cooper said that the case was a shocking one.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald left London last night for Glasgow, where he will receive the freedom of the city and the degree of LL.D. of Glasgow University.

BOARDING A TRAMCAR.

WOMAN'S ACTION FOR DAMAGES FAILS.

Judge Conner, K.C., in the Dublin Circuit Court yesterday, heard an action brought by Mary Magavin, 2 Little Britain street, against the City of Dublin Tramway Co., Ltd., for £15 damages for personal injuries, which, she alleged, were sustained owing to the negligence of the company and their servants.

Her case was that on last Easter Monday, when she got on a Dalkey tramcar at the junction of Grafton and Nassau streets, the conductor pushed her off. She fell and injured her left arm and shoulder.

The defence was that the plaintiff persisted in getting on the tramcar after the conductor had told her that the car was full, and that she was responsible for any injury that she suffered.

The Judge, in dismissing the claim on the merits, said that he did not believe that the conductor pushed the plaintiff off the car. Her own conduct conduced to the accident, for which he could not hold the defendants liable.

Mr. N. Whelan (instructed by Messrs. Noyk and Reilly) appeared for the plaintiff. Mr. J. Mooney (instructed by Messrs. Gerald Byrne and Co.) was for the defendant company.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

James Carpenter, egg and butter exporter, was returned for trial by the District Justice at Ardee on a charge of having embezzled £19 4s., the property of Hugh J. M'Cusker, egg and butter merchant, Glasgow.

The prisoner, who was allowed bail, made a statement to the effect that two armed men robbed him when he was on the Dundalk-Ardee road.

MOTOR CARS COLLIDE.

A char-a-banc, containing 27 passengers, and a taxi-cab collided at a corner near Blackrock, Co. Dublin, at about 1 o'clock on Monday morning, and both vehicles were considerably damaged. The passengers in the char-a-banc had to wait for some hours before another vehicle was procured to take them to their destination. Mr. J. Doherty, of Kilbrac, Shankill, the passenger in the taxi-cab, was injured.

CHICAGO, Monday.

WHEAT opened easy at ⅛c. fall on reports of favourable weather in the North-West, bearish cable advices and liquidation, but soon recovered and advanced owing to strength of the Winnipeg market, the rally in corn, commission house buying, expected unfavourable crop accounts from Canada and covering of shorts. The market closed firm, ⅛c. to ⅜c. up. Spot easy. No. 2 hard winter spot, 115⅞; No. 3 hard winter spot, 113⅜. Futures.—Opening options—July, 112½; September, 113⅞. MAIZE at the opening was barely steady at ⅛c. reduction, prices receding on more favourable crop news and commission house selling, but the market rallied afterwards owing to a better cash demand in the South-West, smaller interior receipts, covering of shorts and decreasing visible supply figures. The close was firm, 1⅛c. to 2c. up. Spot No. 2 mixed, 99. Futures—Opening options—July, 86¼; September, 84¼. Closing options—July, 87⅛; September, 86½; December, 77⅜. Receipts—Western points—To-day, 661,000 bushels; last year, 772,000; this season, 284,757,000; last season, 398,680,000.

OATS firmer, ⅛c. to ⅜c. higher. Futures.—Closing options—July, 46⅞; September, 42⅞; December, 44⅜.

PROVISIONS opened barely steady, and was depressed in the early dealings owing to the lower hog market, heavy receipts and light liquidation, but a partial reaction set in due to shorts covering and commission houses buying. At the close the market was dull, with lard 2½ points up to unchanged, and ribs 10 to 5 points down. Lard.—Closing options—July, 10.67½; September, 10.92½; October, 11.02½. Ribs.—Closing options—July, 9.70; September, 9.82½; October, unquoted.

"THE WORST ROADS IN IRELAND."

VISIT TO KING'S COUNTY.

REPORT OF L.G.B'S. CHIEF ENGINEER.

Some remarkable statements concerning the state of the roads in King's County were made at the annual meeting of the Offaly County Council, in a report from Mr. J. Quigley, Chief Roads Engineer, of the Local Government Ministry.

He said that he spent the whole afternoon inspecting the roads in and around Tullamore, and found a steam roller, the property of the Urban Council, standing still under steam in the fair green. It then started to move around in an aimless kind of way. The usual roller gang were not to be seen, but a very lame old man was moving about with a shovel in his hand.

Next day he found a ganger or foreman, with his overcoat on, and his hands deep down in his trousers pockets, evidently suffering from cold, but seemingly too indolent to move about to keep up bodily warmth. He told him that he had never seen as scandalous a waste of public money.

The kind of work he saw going on and the condition of the roads all bore out the truth of the complaints he had heard.

Tullamore used to be a prosperous looking county town. It has no longer that appearance. The streets are dirty, pot holed, and with large lumps of rounded stones showing through the surface. Some little steam rolling had just been done, and the finished surface was deep in mud and had been left unswept, and did not seem likely to last for more than a few weeks, and was as badly executed as it could be.

No adjective could describe the vileness and badness of the country roads. Ruts, puddles, mud, pot holes, raw and scattered stones prevailed everywhere.

The temporary repairs to broken bridges provided an extremely dangerous and inadequate passage for ordinary traffic. The Council had refused to accept a grant unless the Council had the fixing of wages, conditions of work, etc. The Department had cancelled the grant, as it seemed hopeless to expect any work being carried through.

He told the Council that their roads were the worst in Ireland, and that all they (the Department) sought under the grants was to get a reasonable return in work. Road administration, as carried out by the Council and county officials, he was convinced, was bad, and the results of expenditure in road maintenance was about as bad as could obtain.

Mr. Boland said that while the Chief Engineer attacked the Council he had offered no suggestions as to what the Council ought to do. He, therefore, proposed that the report should be marked read.

Mr. O'Kelly said that a number of their roads were bog roads, and not at all suitable to heavy motor traffic. The motor tax would not keep a half-mile of these roads in the condition their critics expected.

Mr. Bermingham asked why Mr. Quigley had not called for a sworn inquiry if the conditions were as he described them.

The County Surveyor said that the heavy motor traffic was the cause of the deterioration of the roads.

Mr. Finn said that the report was abuse and should not be considered at all.

On the motion of Mr. O'Kelly, it was decided to ask for suggestions as to what improvements were necessary.

FATAL STREET ACCIDENTS.

MAN AND CHILD KILLED.

A verdict of accidental death was returned at an inquest in the Dublin Morgue yesterday on John Murphy, aged 50, a mason, of Glasmuckey, Tallaght, who died in the Meath Hospital last Saturday, shortly after he had been knocked down on the road between Terenure and Templeogue by a motor car, driven by Mr. Herbert Percy Taylor, stockbroker, Kenilworth square, and St. Andrew street. Mr. Taylor was exonerated.

One witness stated that, in an effort to avoid Murphy, who ran across the street, Mr. Taylor swerved and collided with a dairy cart. Another witness, however, expressed the belief that Mr. Taylor could have made a greater attempt to avert the accident if he had applied his brakes. Murphy's skull was fractured, and it was held that his death was due to shock and hemorrhage following laceration of the brain.

A similar verdict was returned in the case of Patrick Fitzpatrick, aged two years, of 24 Coleraine street, Dublin, who sustained a fractured skull when knocked down in Coleraine street on Saturday by a breadvan, driven by Albert Good, of 18 Ivor street, Dublin. It was stated that Good could not have seen the child, and he was exonerated.

In the Dublin Police Court yesterday, Mr. Herbert Percy Taylor, 3 Kenilworth square, was charged with causing the death of John Murphy (46). He was remanded on bail until Thursday.

Albert Good was charged with causing the death of the boy, Patrick Fitzpatrick, and was remanded on his own bail of £20.

"The possibility of an early return to the gold standard is constantly under consideration," says Mr. Snowden, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, in reply to a question.

BUILDING DISPUTE.

THE THREATENED LOCK-OUT IN ENGLAND.

There was no further development in the English building trade dispute yesterday. The situation created by the employers' national lock-out threat is to be considered to-day in London by a conference of representatives of the Executive of all the unions in the Operatives' Federation.

Statements that have been made during the past two or three days indicate that this conference may be asked to adopt the retaliatory attitude by taking action before the expiration of the lock-out notice. There is a strong body of trade union opinion against tactics of this kind, however, the arguments being that if the men wait on events they will be in a much more favourable position because of the difficulty which it is believed the employers will have in justifying the lock-out to the public.

There is good reason to believe that if the lock-out begins it will develop into a struggle on the side of the men for better terms than those embodied in the agreement which the employers refuse to ratify pending the acceptance of the terms by the Liverpool strikers. The National Disputes' Committee of the employers will meet to-morrow, and the situation will probably be considered by the General Council of the Trade Union Congress, which also meets to-morrow.

DUBLIN JEWEL ROBBERY.

EXCITING CHASE AT SANDYMOUNT.

Before Mr. Cooper, in the Dublin Police Court yesterday, Martin Rice was charged by Inspector O'Neill with stealing from "Stella Maris," Lea road, Sandymount, a quantity of jewellery, the property of Mr. Cullen. The articles included a platinum 5-stone brooch, value £30; a necklet, value £1 1s.; a gold and pearl star brooch, value £1; a gold and pearl ear-ring, value £1 5s.; three single-stone rings, value £8 each; a gentleman's gold signet ring, value £2 10s.; a double cluster diamond ring, value £5; an emerald and pearl ring, value £3; two 5-stone diamond rings, value £10; an amethyst ring, value £7; a Cupid ring, value £7; an onyx diamond and ruby bracelet, value £30; two gold gate bracelets, value £9; a gold chain bracelet, value £4 10s.; a gold diamond and sapphire bracelet, value £3; a long gold chain, value £4 10s.; a gold gate bracelet, value £3 10s.; a gentleman's gold filled watch, value £3 10s.; a gentleman's double curb chain, value £5; a card case, value 1s.; and eleven sovereigns. The total value is £191 2s. 2d.

Mr. Cullen gave evidence that on Saturday, between 9 and 10 p.m., he left the house and closed the door, and when he returned ten minutes later he discovered that the window of the door had been broken. He identified the jewellery (produced) as his own property.

Constable Brennan (92 E) stated that while searching the district he saw the prisoner, who ran away. The witness followed on his bicycle. The accused crossed a wall into Lakelands grounds, and went towards Park avenue through a sports club grounds. He after became exhausted, and the witness arrested him. The prisoner said: "Constable, I am guilty. I gave you a fair run for it, and it is a fair capture."

Inspector O'Neill said that when charged at Irishtown Station the accused made no statement.

The prisoner was remanded for a week.

In the Jumping Competitions at the Horse Show at Olympia, London, yesterday, the King's Cup was won by Captain Count Borsarelli, of the Italian Army, who rode Don Chisciotte, which figured prominently last year.

YESTERDAY'S CASES IN THE COURTS.

A £7,000 GUARANTEE.

MONAGHAN FARMERS SUED.

Before Mr. Justice O'Shaughnessy and a special jury, an action came on for hearing in which the Belfast Banking Co., Ltd., claimed £7,448 9s. 6d. from Patrick McGahon, Castleblayney, merchant; John McGeough, Annaglave; Francis McElroy, Clarcoghill; Peter Boyle, Drumcrew; William Bailey, Tullyvin; W. J. Hill, Tullinacronatt; Thomas S. McBride, Moy; Thomas Watters, Killygola; Michael Murtagh, Moneyglen; Peter Martin, Cornamucklagh; James Comiskey, Drumcrew; Robert Dickson, Corrinary; James Watters, Derrycreevy; Joseph Smyth, Tattinclave; Peter O'Reilly, Lurganmore, and Francis Duffy, Drumalish, all of whom are farmers. The claim was in respect of principal and interest due on foot of a joint and several guarantee in writing dated 23rd September, 1922, whereby the defendants, along with others, guaranteed to the plaintiffs payment on behalf of the Castleblayney Flaxgrowers' Co-operative Society, Ltd., to the extent of £7,000, and to pay interest thereon. The interest amounted to £448 9s. 6d.

Nine of the defendants filed a defence, in which they pleaded that they signed the guarantee on the representation of the defendant, Patrick McGahon, that the sum to be guaranteed was an existing overdraft of £3,000; that this guarantee was necessary owing to the death of two persons who were liable to the plaintiffs on a previous guarantee of a like amount, and that the signing of the guarantee was a mere formal matter, as the assets of the society were sufficient to satisfy the overdraft. They said that each of these statements was, in fact, untrue, and was fraudulently made for the purpose of inducing them to sign the guarantee. They further pleaded that the guarantee was produced for their signature by Mr. Elliott, an officer of the plaintiff company and their agent; that all the representations now pleaded by defendants were made in the presence and hearing of Mr. Elliott, who did not repudiate any of them.

The plaintiffs, in reply, denied that any such representations were made in the presence of Mr. Elliott. They repudiated all knowledge of the representations, and said that the defendants were fully aware of the nature and extent of their liability on foot of the guarantee.

Mr. Serjeant Hanna, K.C., Mr. W. Jellett, K.C., and Mr. T. J. Smyth (instructed by Mr. John G. Reid, Castleblayney) appeared for the plaintiffs; and Mr. S. L. Brown, K.C., Mr. Herbert Wilson, K.C., and Mr. Charles S. Campbell (instructed by Mr John Gillespie, Castleblayney) for the defendants.

The case for the plaintiffs had not concluded when the Court adjourned until this morning.

"IF WINTER COMES."

LITIGATION ABOUT A FILM.

Before Mr. Justice Meredith, in the action between the Fox Film Co., Ltd., plaintiffs, and George P. Fleming and La Scala Theatre, Dublin, defendants,

Mr. Vincent Rice (instructed by Mr. Charles H. Denroche) said that the action was brought for the recovery of £750 for the hire of a film known as "If Winter Comes" and for damages for breach of contract. The contract on which the action was brought was in writing, and purported to be made between the plaintiffs, as renters, and the defendant, Mr. Fleming, as exhibitor. The execution of the contract for the exhibition was expressed to be signed "For and on behalf of the exhibitor for La Scala Theatre, Dublin. Thos. C. Reddin, Resident Manager." In an affidavit by Mr. Denroche, he stated that he was informed that Mr. Fleming had gone to Scotland, and would not return to this country for three weeks. He had instructions from the plaintiffs to proceed with the prosecution of the action with all possible speed, and asked for liberty to substitute service of the writ on Thomas R. Reddin, the resident manager of La Scala Theatre.

Mr. Justice Meredith granted the application.

CORN PRODUCTION ACT.

A LABOURER'S CLAIM.

Before Mr. Justice O'Shaughnessy, in an action in which Thomas Nolan, of Newcastle road, Galway, labourer, claimed to recover arrears of wages from Colonel O'Hara, late of Lenaboy Castle, Galway, Mr. Jellett, K.C., with whom was Mr. Oliver Murphy (instructed by Messrs. Moore, Keily and Lloyd), for the defendant, said that the plaintiff claimed arrears of wages, to which he said he was entitled under the Corn Production Act of 1917. He had been employed in Colonel O'Hara's garden at Lenaboy. Colonel O'Hara eventually sold the place. The issue was whether the Corn Production Act applied or not, and the matter had been settled on the basis that the defendant agreed to pay the plaintiff £55 and his costs.

Mr. Leonard, K.C., who, with Mr. Costello (instructed by Mr. Fallon, Galway), appeared for the plaintiff, assented.

Judgment was accordingly entered for the plaintiff by consent for £55 and the taxed costs of the action.

THE SALE OF A WRECK.

PURCHASER'S APPEAL DISMISSED.

In the Dail Eireann (Winding-up) Commission Court yesterday, before Commissioners Crowley and Power, the case of Mark Conway and others against James Keely, building contractor, came on for final hearing. The action was brought to recover £25, the price of the ship Gipsy, which was sold by the plaintiffs to the defendant on the 16th November, 1921, and for £5 damages for delay in completing the sale, and for moneys expended for the use of the defendant. It appeared that the vessel was wrecked at the entrance to Wicklow Harbour and was blown up on the beach. The plaintiffs bought the wreck from the owners and sold it to the defendant for £25, and the defendant placed a man in charge of it. On the day after the sale the defendant wrote to Conway stating that he would not go on with the sale.

The defence was a denial of the contract, as there was no memorandum of the sale in writing, and also that the defendant had not accepted delivery of the vessel. The case was originally heard in the Wicklow District Court in 1921, when a decree for £7 was given to the plaintiff. He appealed to the East Wicklow Circuit Court (Judge Meredith) and obtained an increased decree for £25. The defendant finally appealed to this Court, and the decree for £25 was confirmed, with £15 15s. costs.

Mr. P. T. Cunniam (instructed by Mr. J. H. McCarroll) appeared for the plaintiffs.

Mr. Hector Hughes (instructed by Messrs. Goff and Callery) appeared for the defendant.

TENANTS' GRAZING RIGHTS.

RAILWAY COMPANY'S APPEAL DISMISSED.

In the Supreme Court, before the Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Sullivan and Mr. Justice Murnaghan, in the case of Nora Ryan, Patrick J. Ryan and Bartly Monaghan against the Great Southern and Western Railway Company, an appeal by the defendant company from an order made by the Master of the Rolls on the 6th May last was heard.

The action was brought for an injunction restraining the defendant company, their servants, workmen, and agents, from committing any trespass on Cloonascragh Hill, County Galway, and from in any way interfering with the plaintiffs' rights of grazing cattle and sheep on the hill appurtenant to their adjoining holdings, and for a mandatory injunction directing the defendants to forthwith remove all posts, rails and wire fencing erected by them on the hill.

By the order of the Master of the Rolls, granting the plaintiffs an interlocutory injunction, pending the trial of the action, the defendants were ordered forthwith to remove the wire fencing erected by them on the lands of Cloonascragh Hill, so as to allow the plaintiffs' stock to graze on the lands as heretofore.

Serjeant Hanna and Mr. Phelps (instructed by Mr. E. White) appeared for the appellants and defendants; and Mr. W. G. Shannon (instructed by Mr. L. E. O'Dea) for the respondents and plaintiffs.

It appeared that the defendant company required gravel for ballasting purposes between Athenry and Tuam, Co. Galway, and had purchased the fee-simple of the portion of the Cloonascragh Hill, consisting of about nine acres, from the landlord of the property, Mr. James McDonnell, Athlone, in order to obtain the gravel underneath the surface. The company were prepared to pay the plaintiffs, who claimed to have the grazing rights over the lands, any reasonable compensation that might be demanded or awarded.

In support of the appeal it was stated that the company stood in the shoes of the landlord, under the circumstances, and were as of right entitled to take the gravel for the purpose mentioned, the plaintiffs having no right to the minerals underneath the land.

For the plaintiffs, in opposition to the appeal, it was stated that they did not want compensation. What they wanted was to have their grazing rights, to which they were clearly entitled, preserved; and if the defendant company were allowed to continue the trespass complained of, excluding the plaintiffs from exercising their grazing right, by the time the action came to be tried irreparable injury would have been done to them.

The Court dismissed the appeal, with costs.

The Chief Justice, giving judgment, pointed out that irreparable damage might be done to the plaintiffs if the defendants were permittted to continue their acts of trespass till the trial of the action by sinking a pit to take gravel.

In his opinion, the plaintiffs had a clear right of grazing over the lands, and that the defendant company had acted in the wrong, and accordingly the appeal should be refused and the order of the Master of the Rolls affirmed.

Mr. Justice Sullivan and Mr. Justice Murnaghan concurred.

The appeal was dismissed, with the costs of the interlocutory injunction in the Court below to abide the result of the trial of the action.

THE PAY TRAIN ROBBERY

A PRISONER'S DENIAL.

At the Dublin Police Court yesterday, Charles Kinsella was remanded until Wednesday on a charge of conspiring with other men not in custody to rob, while armed, John J. Collins, pay clerk, Great Southern and Western Railway, and also with robbing a sum of £225, the property of the company. He was further charged with assaulting the pay clerk, engine-driver and fireman by presenting a loaded revolver at them.

When arrested and cautioned, the prisoner denied the charge and said that he heard a soldier say "Fire!" and ran for shelter.

Inspector Long asked for a remand until Wednesday. He had reasonable grounds for believing that he would have further evidence.

The prisoner, in the course of a statement to the Court, complained of having received ill-treatment, after arrest, from three C.I.D. men, whom he could identify. A topcoat and revolver which were found were not his, and he knew nothing about them. When brought out for identification the coat was put on him, which he considered unfair.

He was remanded in custody.

A COUNTY TYRONE RIOT CASE.

ATTACK ON THE POLICE.

At Dungannon Courthouse yesterday, before Messrs. G. M'Elroy and W. G. Moriarty, Resident Magistrates, charges of riot and unlawful assembly were heard against Robert Purdy and James Purdy, of Moy; James Cochrane, of Killyman; William Blemings, of Castlecaulfield; and William M'Farlane and John D. Arthurs, of Dungannon.

Mr. R. H. Carson, who prosecuted, said that on the 24th May last drumming clubs held competitions in Castlecaulfield. Towards evening many of the parties were under the influence of drink and began to fight among themselves. The police sergeant advised them to go home. The crowd then attacked the police and Constable Cochrane was seriously injured. But for Special Constable George Jamieson the constable, Cochrane, might have been killed, as he had been knocked unconscious.

Dr. Stephen Garvin, of Castlecaulfield, described Constable Cochrane's wounds and said that for ten or eleven days he was unfit for duty.

Mr. M'Elroy having congratulated the police force on their patience and coolness, said that they had acted very properly in the circumstances. He commended the Special constable's action to the favourable consideration of the authorities. He found that the defendant Blemings was technically guilty of unlawful assembly, and allowed him out on his own personal bail. The other five defendants were sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment, with hard labour, and were bound to the peace.

Notice of appeal was served.

LATE VISCOUNT PIRRIE.

FUNERAL IN BELFAST.

THE CITIZENS' TRIBUTE

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Monday.

Belfast to-day paid a notable tribute to the memory of its most distinguished citizen, Viscount Pirrie, K.P., when his remains were removed from his late residence, Ormiston, for interment in the City Cemetery. In compliance with the wishes of Lady Pirrie, the obsequies, in so far as Ormiston and the journey to the City Hall were concerned, were of a private character.

After a Service at Ormiston, the coffin, which bore the inscription, "William James, First Viscount Pirrie, K.P. Born Quebec, 31st May, 1847. Died at sea on R.M.S. Ebro, 7th June, 1924. 'Deeds not words,'" was placed in a motor hearse. It was covered with the banner of the Knights of St. Patrick and the Union Jack. On it were placed wreaths from Lady Pirrie and some members of the family, and one from the officers and crew of R.M.S. Olympic.

Viscountess Pirrie, who was accompanied by Mr. John Carlisle and Mrs. Carlisle, drove in the first carriage.

The occupants of succeeding carriages were:—

Mr. Henry Carlisle Mrs. A. M. Carlisle, and Field-Marshal Sir William Robertson, D.S.O., G.C.M.G.

Mrs. Thomas Andrews, the Right Hon. J. M. Andrews, and Lord Justice Andrews.

The Rev. H. J. Rossington and the Rev. J. Ramsay Sibbold (Crathie Parish Church, Scotland).

The Rev. Thomas Dunkerley, M.A. (Comber), the Rev. E. I. Fripp, and the Rev. Dr. MacDermott.

The Right Hon. Lord Inverforth, Mr. Robert Crighton (Deputy Chairman, Harland and Wolff), and Mr. C. Crisp (solicitor, London).

The Marquis of Londonderry, the Lord Mayor of Belfast and the High Sheriff of Belfast.

Dr. John Morrow, Mrs. Morrow, and Miss Morrow.

Sir Alfred Read, Bart. (Chairman of the Coast Lines, Ltd. London); Mr. John Craig (Chairman, David Colville and Sons, Ltd.); Mr. Charles Payne, D.L., and Mr. F. E. Rebbeck.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson (Govan); Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kempster (Greenock).

Mr. W. Tawse, Mr. John Philipp (London), Mr. Saxon Payne, and Mr A. T. Marshall.

Mr. Edward Wilding, Mr. Frank Cuming, Mrs. C. Payne, and Mrs. Rebbeck.

Mr. Fred Dunlop, Mr. Frank Johnston, Mr. J. D. Kay, and Mr. John Morrison.

Sir Robert Meyer (Town Clerk and private secretary to the late Viscount when Lord Mayor of Belfast), and Mr. W. J. Pratten.

Mr. T. S. Tobin and Mr. Henry Harland.

The remaining carriages were occupied by members of the late Lord Pirrie's staff.

The funeral procession made its way from Holywood Arches, via Dee street, to the Queen's Island, and a short halt was made at the main offices of Messrs. Harland and Wolff. Work was stopped in all departments.

AT THE CITY HALL.

Thousands of citizens assembled at the City Hall fully an hour before the passage of the funeral. At the entrance to the Capitol assembled representative public men, including members of the Northern Parliament, the Belfast Corporation, Harbour Board and Water Commissioners, the Poor Law Guardians and other public bodies, while organisations associated with commerce and industry were also represented.

The Governor of Northern Ireland was represented by Lieutenant-Commander Oscar Henderson, D.S.O., R.N., who was later joined by the Lord Chief Justice (the Right Hon. Sir Denis Henry, Bart.).

There were also present representatives of the Ulster Unionist Association, Ulster Unionist Labour Association, and the Ulster Liberal Association, while there were present many representatives of shipyard trade unions. Mr. Campbell Wallace (Great Northern Railway), Mr. Thomas Richardson (Chairman, Belfast and County Down Railway), and Mr. W. F. Minnis (traffic superintendent of the latter system) representing the railway companies.

Viscount Pirrie was laid to rest in a grave in the Pirrie plot in the City Cemetery. At the special request of Viscountess Pirrie, the Queen's Island choir attended and sang the hymn, "Now the Labourer's Task is O'er." Barnby's familiar setting was specially arranged by the conductor, Mr. John Vine, F.R.C.O., for male voices.

The Rev. H. J. Rossington, M.A., B.D., conducted the first portion of the Service at the graveside, reading the 23rd Psalm and the passage from Revelations, Chap. 21, beginning: "And I heard a voice from Heaven saying."

Mr. Rossington delivered a panegyric of the deceased nobleman, in the course of which, he said that they were met under a common sorrow created by a sense of common loss. Viscount Pirrie was a man of commanding talents and conspicuous position. His long and notable career was spent in the service of his fellow men. He loved his work, and the command: "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might," had no difficulties for him. Life for him meant labour, labour which he loved.

They laid him to rest with a profound sense of loss, and in tenderest sympathy for his sorrowing friends, with gratitude for the services he rendered through a long, honourable and successful life, and with regard and affection for a dear comrade and friend.

Before reciting the Committal Service, the Rev. J. Ramsay Sibbald, of Crathie, Chaplain to the King also spoke about the life and character of Lord Pirrie. He said that he could only re-echo what had been said, and he wished to do so as a voice from beyond that particular place.

MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY.

Hundreds of messages of sympathy have been received by Lady Pirrie. The King and Queen sent a gracious message, as did Queen Alexandra, the Prince of Wales, and the Princess Royal.

The Prime Ministers of England and Northern Ireland also expressed their deep sympathy with Lady Pirrie, and among the others who sent telegrams or letters were:—Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Reginald McKenna, Lord Kylsant, Chairman of the Union Castle and R.M.S.P. Companies; Lord Inchcape, Chairman of the P. and O. Line, and Lord Devonport, Chairman of the Port of London Authority.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Presbyterian Church in Ireland, and especially in Belfast, has suffered the loss in recent years of many of its ablest leaders in public affairs. Viscount Pirrie's death leaves a gap not easily filled in the life of the Church, as well as in that of the city. For many years he was a member of the Committee on the Church House and Assembly Hall. He was also President for a considerable period of the Central Presbyterian Association, Belfast. The War Memorial Hostel had no more earnest promoter, combining as it did his interest in the welfare of the young and in the perpetuation of the memory of those who had fallen for their country. The General Assembly, before its rising, expressed by a standing vote its sympathy with Lady Pirrie. On Sabbath last the Rev. R. Hyndman, minister of Belmont Church, where Lord Pirrie worshipped, paid a touching tribute to the simplicity, sympathy and vision which lay behind his great achievements.

The "Father" of the Assembly, the Rev. H. M. Butler, minister of Magilligan, who contributed £100 to the Commutation Memorial Fund on the closing day of the Assembly, is 93 years of age. He was ordained in Magilligan in 1851, and has been minister of the one charge for 73 years. Mr. Butler is still alert and active, and, as his gift shows, a liberal Churchman.

The Rev. Dr. Archibald Fleming, minister of St. Columba's Church, Pont street, London (Church of Scotland), was the special preacher on Sunday at the annual Thanksgiving Service in the Chapel of the Foundling Hospital. This is the first time for two centuries, at least, that a preacher other than a dignitary of the Anglican Church has been invited. Dr. Fleming took as his subject, "God, the Foundling," from the text, "I was found of them that sought me not."

Elders' Unions are spreading wherever the Presbyterian Church exists. Now that they have come into being and proved that there is a sphere for them, one wonders why they did not spring up centuries ago. The second annual meeting of the Ruling Elders' Union of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland was held in Belfast, in connection with the Assembly. Mr. R. Crawford, M.P., presided, and, from the report submitted by Mr. K. M. Alexander, it is learned that new branches are being formed throughout the country, and that the membership already exceeds 2,500. Mr. H. McCleery, J.P., was elected President for the coming year. Dublin has a Union which has been doing good work in the city and in the South of Ireland.

Mr. C. L. Bird, the Motor-Cycling International writes:—

"TEST riding for one of the leading motor-cycle makers, and incidentally, the winning of such events as the Swedish Six Day International Trial, are only for the robust, always-fit man. The secret of health and fitness is more closely associated with the nerves than most people think. And the secret of my nerve health, if my case is a criterion, is Phosferine, which feeds and "tunes up" the nervous system, thus enabling one to enjoy the most fatiguing contests without any ill effects. Using Phosferine with such regularity, I am always certain of feeling fit enough to go anywhere and acquit myself satisfactorily in the most formidable racing events; and I am sure I owe it to Phosferine that I am fortunate enough to escape the risks of Influenza and other prevailing epidemics, which must be guarded against by the International Sports Competitor."

Mr. C. L. Bird

From the very first day you take PHOSFERINE you will gain new confidence, new life, new endurance. It makes you eat better and sleep better, and you will look as fit as you feel. Phosferine is given with equally good results to the children.

MOTOR CYCLING.

TOURIST TROPHY RACES.

AMATEUR WINS JUNIOR TROPHY.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

DOUGLAS, Monday.

The first of the five Tourist Trophy races, which will be held in the Isle of Man during the present week was held yesterday when the junior event for machines of 350 cubic centimetre capacity was run off. The growing importance of the light-weight bicycle was indicated by the fact that this race received the largest entry of any of the five contests to be held. All of the fifty-nine competitors weighed in on Saturday, and the only one who was an absentee this morning was Young, who had been nominated by the Motor Cycle Union of South Africa. No official explanation was offered as to Young's absence, but it was a matter of general regret that a rider who had travelled so far to take part in the race should be compelled to scratch at the eleventh hour. The race was won by K. Twemlow, an amateur rider, who, it will be remembered, won the 350 centimetre class in the amateur race promoted by the Mannt Club last September.

While Simpson was breaking lap records in the earlier stages of the race, Twemlow was amongst the ruck, and did not appear in the first half dozen until the third lap, when he ran into fifth place. Simpson, on an A.J.S., led at the end of the first circuit, which he covered at a speed of 63.19 miles per hour.

The favourable conditions under which the race was run will be indicated by the fact that the first three men beat the senior lap record, all of them doing over sixty miles per hour. Simpson increased his lead on the second lap, which he did at the record speed of 63.85 miles per hour. These fast laps were evidently too much for his machine, as before the completion of the third circuit he was compelled to retire. This left Horton (New Imperial), who was third on the first two circuits, in the leading position.

Hanley, the winner of the Ulster Grand Prix of last year, was second on both first and second laps, but he retired with Simpson in the third circuit. Horton maintained his lead for the next two laps. After running into fourth place on the fourth circuit, Twemlow went to the head of affairs on the next lap, and maintained his position to the finish, ultimately winning by 3 mins. 5 secs. from Ollerhead (Dot Bradshaw). Scott, the Australian rider, was third on an A.J.S. The time of the winner for the six laps (226¼ miles) was 4 hours, 4 mins. 21 secs. an average of 55.83 miles per hour. This is slightly slower than the time accomplished by Stanley Woods a year ago. The conditions were not quite so favourable as on that occasion. The threatened rain of the morning did not materialise, but the mist was very heavy on the mountain section, particularly in the latter stages of the race. It has frequently been said of the Tourist Trophy race that they are as much trials of speed as of reliability. This feature was exemplified by to-day's race, as of the six men who figured in the leading positions on the first two circuits, not a single one completed the race, and the three men who were ultimately first, second, and third did not appear amongst the leading sixteen until half the race was completed.

The only one of the Irish trio to finish was Shaw, of Belfast, who ran into tenth place. The other Northern competitor, Dinsmore, of Ballymena, collided with a bank before he completed a quarter of the first lap, while Stanley Woods, the holder of the trophy, had the misfortune to break down practically within sight of the start. He did not complete two hundred yards when the fly-wheel of his engine came adrift—a mishap which it was impossible to put right. The times and placings of the leading finishes were:—

Twemlow (New Imperial), 4 hours 4 mins. 21 secs., 1; Ollerhead (Dot Bradshaw), 4 hours 7 mins. 26 secs., 2; Scott (A.J.S.), 4 hours 9 mins. 1-4 secs., 3; Ashby (Montgomery), 4 hours 14 mins. 27 secs., 4; Willis (Montgomery), 4 hours 17 mins. 18 secs., 5; Emerson (Dot Bradshaw), 4 hours 20 mins. 39 secs., 6; H. Simpson (Excelsior), 4 hours 28 mins. 55 secs., 7; Nicholson (O.H.C. Blackburne), 4 hours 31 mins. 38 secs., 8; Marston (A.J.S.), 4 hours 31 mins. 49 secs., 9; Shaw (Zenith), 4 hours 43 mins., 10; Jacobs (Beardmore Precision), 4 hours 50 mins. 1-5 secs., 11; Cowley (Sunbeam), 5 hours 5 mins. 49 secs., 12.

ROWING.

BOYNE REGATTA.

Owing to a lack of entries in the senior events at the Boyne Regatta, originally fixed for to-morrow and Thursday, the committee have decided to cancel the first day's racing, and will hold a one day regatta on Thursday next, June 26th.

OLYMPIC SHOOTING.

At Rheims yesterday, Coquel (France) won the Olympic Shooting Tournament, with a score of 398 out of a possible 400. Dinwiddie (United States), who is only 17 years old, was second with 396. Competitors totalled 83.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

A TRIPLE BILL.

MODERATE DAY AT BRIGHTON.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.
LONDON, Monday Night.

No fewer than three meetings—Brighton, Birmingham, and Newcastle—clash to-morrow in England, a circumstance that is detested by nearly everyone. The best prizes are at Newcastle, where the North Derby to-morrow afternoon is worth £2,000. BRIGHT KNIGHT has been sent from Manton to run for this, and, as his only rival of any consequence is likely to be Roysterer, Lord Astor's colt should have no difficulty in winning this event. Two good two-year-olds in the Irish colt, Boyarin, and Low Road have been sent to run for the Gosforth Park Biennial, and I expect to see BOYARIN win. GYROSCOPE should have no difficulty in winning the Clayton Handicap from the moderate lot which will oppose him.

On the strength of his running behind Tom Pinch and St. Germans in the St. James's Palace Stakes at Ascot, BOB FLINT should win the Midland Breeders' Plate at Birmingham, and RIDING LIGHT, a well-bred two-year-old trained by John Watson, is fancied for the Guernsey Stud Produce Stakes. ST. GIRONETTE is a likely winner of the Packington Plate.

At Brighton RHYOLITE will oppose Evensong and others in the Steyning Two-Year-Old Plate, and the former should win. If BELSIZE is started for the Sussex Handicap I would expect to see him carry his big weight successfully. In his absence we can fall back on HONEY GUIDE.

There was little of interest in the racing to-day at Brighton, where last week's stream of winning outsiders had not decreased much in volume. Frank Hartigan won races with Heron and Flint Stone, the former getting the stakes attaching to the Southover Handicap after Played Out had beaten him in a bumping finish.

News has reached Lewes that Tony Escott has won the principal steeplechase in America, at Belmont Park, on Sans Peche, a horse imported from England. Escott has a riding engagement in the States.

Orme, who rode Red Ronald in the Balcombe Stakes at Brighton yesterday, was kicked at the post after finishing in the race and collapsed, and had to be carried to the weighing-room, but happily the injury was not serious.

THE CURRAGH.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

The Derby meeting, which opens to-day, will be associated with some excellent sport, and if any reliance can be placed on overnight indications the principal meeting of the year at the headquarters of the Irish Turf will be favoured in the matter of weather. Except that L'Aiglon, who won a good trial on Saturday, may be regarded as a certain starter, nothing new has transpired in connection with to-morrow's Irish Derby, which promises to furnish a fine race.

The most important event on to-day's card is the Flat Rath Stakes, and the antagonism of Tranquillete, Brian Boy, and Speedy Marquis, who showed a return to form at Leopardstown on Saturday, would make for a very interesting contest. Special trains leave Kingsbridge each morning at 11.20, 11.45, and 12.15, and these will, no doubt, be largely availed of. Selections for to-day are appended:—

Scurry Plate—Georgina.
Conyngham Plate—Hidennis.

Flat Rath Stakes—Brian Boy; if absent, Tranquillete.

THURLES.

TWO WINNERS FOR MR. J. T. WIDGER.

AN OBJECTION OVERRULED

Ideal weather prevailed at Thurles yesterday, and a big company assembled, while the sport proved of an interesting character. Four favourites scored, and another feature was the dual success in the saddle of the young Waterford horseman, Mr. J. T. Widger, who was successful both on the flat and over fences. Four of the seven runners in the Ladies' Plate were backed, but the pair that claimed the most support were Buacaill Breah and Prince Hiram. The former ran well, but was beaten shortly after the straight was entered, and then ensued a spirited duel between Prince Hiram and Patsy, and it was only by a short head that Moylan's mount got home. Bright Potts was in front for about three furlongs, but then dropped out of it. Start Again was a pronounced favourite for the Committee Plate, but although he gave a good display he could never get on terms with Menelaus, who was in front all the way. East Galway had odds laid on him for the Corinthian Plate, and, always travelling very smoothly through the race, he won just comfortably by half a length from Gallardo. Scotch Ben found no difficulty in annexing the Killinan Plate, but it was not so with another odds-on favourite in Warfate, in the Thurles Plate. In fact, Mr. W. F. Power's son of Warlingham was called upon to resist a very determined challenge by Moor Maiden, and it was only by a neck that the favourite scored. He was objected to for boring, but the protest was overruled. Only two contested the Town Plate, and Hestonette readily landed the odds laid on her. Details:—

YACHTING.

THE WATER WAGS.

The captain's prize—for the first boat home irrespective of handicap—was won last evening by Coquette, which boat beat Mollie by one second, and Wendy by three seconds, in a splendid finish. The weather was perfect when the start was made over the starboard course at 6.37 p.m., and at this stage there was the unusual happening of Coquette being over the line too soon and getting recalled. Actually, she got away last now, the order off of the others being Barbara, Wendy, Phyllis, Blue Bird, Mollie, Pansy, as they crossed on a beat to the coal harbour mark. A run and a reach followed on the next two legs; then came a beat up the fairway, the round finishing with Wendy leading, and well ahead of Mollie and Coquette, the next two. The second round made no change, but soon after they had entered on the final, Coquette worked out into leading position. Once in front it is difficult to take the lead from her, but Mollie and Wendy pressed her hard, and at the end three seconds divided the first three boats, in a fast-sailed race.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

There are several races to be won to-day which should prove attractive to owners, but neither the Breeders' Stakes nor the Guernsey Stud Produce Stakes appears at the moment likely to justify expectations. The Breeders' Foal Stakes reads to me virtually a match between Spalpeen and Bob Flint, and I cannot discern danger in the offing to the pair. Public form points to Bob Flint; therefore, I must anticipate his beating Sir Edward Hulton's colt, who, however, I learn, was moving in his very best manner on his home gallops last week. The Guernsey Stud Produce Stakes is most likely to go to Quirk. Selections:—

Tamworth Plate—Ferdia.
Bromford Handicap—Clansman.
Midland Breeders' Plate—Bob Flint.
Packington Plate—Fulfil or Glamour.
Guernsey Produce Stakes—Quirk.
Bull Ring Handicap—Argos Lass.

WEMBLEY TO MALLOW.
The Great Western Railway of England are announcing Special Cheap Excursions from Paddington, Exeter, Cardiff, Swansea and Birmingham, on Thursday, the 3rd July, for Mallow Races, on 4th July (American Independence Day). Some thousands of passengers from America have arranged to break the journey at Cobh, and remain in Ireland for this day, but as the Enclosures are by far the largest and finest in Ireland, and the Stand accommodation has been greatly added to since the opening Meeting, everyone present will be able to see the splendid Programme of Races to be decided on that day.
In order to avoid crowding at the gates, the grounds will be opened at 11.30, and the Band will play from 11.45 to 1.45, and again immediately after the last race, until the Enclosures have been emptied. There will be no music between the races.
The Great Southern and Western Railway of Ireland are running Specials, at Cheap Fares, for all stations, 4th July. —(Advt.)

NEWCASTLE.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME AND SELECTIONS.

The prospects at Gosforth Park were never brighter for the Summer Meeting. The Northumberland Plate has certainly come through the acceptance stage rather badly, but we may yet have runners enough to admit of place betting. The race is certainly a very open one. The course will be found in first-class condition, which is not often experienced here at this period of the year. The North Derby is the chief event on the first day, but as of old there will not be a large field. The Derby disappointment, Bright Knight, is to run. He failed in the Newmarket Stakes, which his stable companion, Hurstwood, won, but against this apparently moderate opposition he should have an easy passage. Boyarin, In Earnest, and Low Road appear best in 38th Biennial, and I rely on the former to win. When beaten by Iron Mask at Newmarket he was conceding 13lb. and had a big field of useful animals behind him. Gyroscope may wait for the Gosforth Cup on Thursday, and in his absence from the Clayton Plate I take Cyzare and Cover King to supply the winner. The latter failed at Redcar when well backed, but I will give him another chance. Selections:—

Arcot Plate—J. Renwick's selected.
St. Oswald Plate—Pomponious; if absent, Roman Road.
Biennial Stakes—Boyarin.
North Derby—Bright Knight.
Blagdon Plate—Miss Volta.
Clayton Plate—Gyroscope; if absent, Cover King.

THE TAILTEANN GAMES.

CLOSING OF ENTRIES.

It is most important that all intending entrants for the Tailteann Games should forward their entries to the Secretary of the section in which they will compete, on or before June 30th, as no entries can be taken after that date. Entries can also be forwarded to the Head Office, College street, Dublin.

THE CITROEN CLUB.

The newly-formed Citroen Car Club held its first run to Glendalough on Saturday last. There were 27 entries and of these 21 came under the starter's notice. The first car was sent away from Donnybrook tram terminus at 3 o'clock and the remainder at one minute intervals. The route was via Bray, Kilmacanogue, and Roundwood. An interesting competition was included in the run. Competitors had to average 18 miles an hour over the course. Speedometers were sealed, and the times at which competitors should arrive in Glendalough were not disclosed to them. A secret check was taken midway between Dublin and Glendaugh, and this decided the fate of most of the competitors.

The following qualified for prizes:—1, T. P. Byrne (3½ minutes error); 2, Commandant Corrigan (5½ minutes error); 3, D. Mulcahy (6 minutes error); 3, J. G. Hanna (6 minutes error); 4, F. E. Draper (7 minutes error); 4, T. A. Ireland (7 minutes error).

Tea was provided by the Club, after which a general meeting was held to confirm the election of officers.

BOXING.

A CORRECTION.

In the report of the boxing tournament held at Celtic Park, Belfast, on Saturday, it was stated that Tansey Lee was beaten in one of the contests. Tansey Lee, who is Boxing Instructor to the National Army, did not compete in the tournament, but acted as one of the referees.

"FELIX" FAIR DOG SHOW.

The third prize-winner in Irish Blue Terriers, open, dog or bitch, at the "Felix" Fair Dog Show on Saturday was Miss J. Hislop's Irish Barney, which also won the second prize in the novices class.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

The London Stock markets opened the week in very subdued fashion. Public interest was at a very low ebb, and comparatively few stocks in any of the departments showed a change in price. The only satisfactory feature was the firm tone which prevailed everywhere. The fact that yesterday was the eve of the general carry-over had a restraining influence in regard to the making of new commitments, and the cordial agreement reported to have been arrived at between the French and British Premiers at Chequers was allowed to pass over almost unnoticed. Apart from the ordinary routine business, the gilt-edged market was practically neglected. Local Loans were a little easier, and so were Victory Bonds, which have now lost their attraction in connection with the June drawings. Indias were a shade harder in a couple of instances. Port of Calcutta Debs. showed a slight recovery.

The Anglo-South American Bank in its cabled reports from its branches contains the following from Argentina, dated Buenos Aires, 18th June:—"Slight rains have fallen in the South, and will materially assist the operations in respect of the sowing of wheat, oats and barley. With regard to the maize crop, which is now ripe, picking and shelling continue very actively. There is no doubt that there will be a large quantity of this cereal available for export, and shipping should be very active during the next few months. Sowing of wheat and linseed is proceeding very well in all parts of the country, and there are strong indications that the area sown will be well in excess of that of last year."

De Beers dividend of 20 per cent., or 10/- per £2 10/- share, free of Union dividend tax, on its Def. shares, conforms with the market estimates. It is the first dividend since the 20 per cent. paid for the year ended June 30th, 1921, the Def. shareholders having gone dividendless for the two succeeding years. For the year ended June 30th, 1920, the dividend was 120 per cent. The Def. shares are quoted about 12⅛, and the yield on the 20 per cent basis is under 4 per cent.

LONDON STOCKS FIRM.

BUSINESS VERY SMALL.

The Stock Markets yesterday were extremely quiet, but a firm undertone was in evidence. Business was restricted by the commencement of the settlement. In the gilt-edged market British Funds opened slightly harder, but later on they eased, and at the close previous prices were generally repeated. Indias were firm, but finished unchanged. In the scrip issues Port of Calcutta were quoted at 1 discount.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES were the turn harder. French Loans, after an indifferent opening, hardened, and at the close the Fives were ½ higher at 24, while the Fours repeated 18½ x.d. Chinese were slightly better. The 5 p.c. 1896 finished 1/16 higher at 94 5/16, while the 4½ p.c. 1898 were ⅛ higher at 79⅜. Japan 4 p.c. 1905 were a point higher at 91, but Mexican 6 p.c. 10-Year Treasury finished 3 points lower on the day at 57½.

HOME RAILS were dull and uninteresting, but at the close few price changes were recorded. North-Eastern Def.-Ord. fell ¼ to 29¼, while Metropolitan Districts were ½ lower at 51½.

COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILS were extremely quiet. Prices at the close were generally unchanged. The exceptions were United Havana, which further rose ½ to 87½, and Canadian Pacifics, which finished a point lower at 170 x.d.

OIL SHARES STEADY.

FAIR VOLUME OF BUSINESS.

Despite the fact that business in Oil shares was restricted to some extent by the preliminaries in connection with the carry-over, a fair volume of transactions was reported, and the market maintained a steady appearance. Little change in the position was revealed by the preliminaries in connection with the carry-over. There was again a preponderance of givers, the shares to which this applied principally being Shells, Lobitos, V.O.C. Prefs., Phœnix, and General Petroleum of Trinidad "A." V.O.C. Ord. were takers. Among the leaders Shells were a steady market throughout the day, and after having been bid for at a slight advance closed without alteration. Little movement occurred in Royal Dutch until the afternoon, when, upon the receipt of American advices, they were bid for and finally showed an appreciable improvement. Anglo-Persians remained quietly steady, but Burmahs weakened slightly. Mexican Eagles hardened on the improvement in production in the week ended June 14. Rumanians gave way rather sharply during the early hours. Phœnix were freely offered, and the price weakened appreciably, but later in the day they made good the greater part of their early loss. Firmness was displayed by V.O.C. Holdings, while among other Venezuelans British Controlled, which were offered in the early hours, rallied later, and left off showing a gain. Lobitos slipped back slightly. Closing prices:—

RUBBER SHARES DULL.

The Rubber share market yesterday was dull. Business was, perhaps, in greater volume than has been the case of late, but at the close price changes were generally in the downward direction. Seafield at 8s. 9d. finished 1s. 3d. higher, while Kuala Lumpur at 27s. 6d. were 7½d. up. Damansara rose 1½d. to 11s. 6d., while Straits Rubber were 3d. better at 17s. 3d. Ledbury, on the other hand, fell 1s. 9d. to 21s. 3d., while Telogoredjo at 28s. 9d. were 1s. 3d. lower. B.N.B.R. Trust lost 1s. to 8s. 6d. Bebrau fell 9¾d. to 25s. 9d., while Anglo-Malay were 9d. down at 17s. 3d. Grand Central at 17s. 9d. and Vallambrosa at 9s. 7½d. both fell 3d. There were several other smaller changes. The price of rubber is unchanged at 10⅜d. per lb. Closing prices:—

LONDON MINING MARKET STEADY.

ACTIVITY OF EAST RANDS.

During the account now in course of settlement, business in the Mining Maket has been of a mixed character, and the result is to be seen in the irregular changes over the period. The carry-over was easily arranged on about the same terms as last time, the usual charge being 5½ to 6½ p.c. for accommodation. In the Kaffir section the lead is taken by East Rands, which have been the most active centre of the whole "House." At the opening yesterday there was quite a rush to sell East Rand, on the week-end cablegram announcing the result of driving on the reef at the 23rd level in the Driefontein incline shaft. Despite heavy realisations, however, fresh support was forthcoming on a large scale, and, although fairly wide fluctuations were witnessed throughout the day, the shares were quite firm at the close, though appreciably below the level of last Friday. The remainder of the Kaffir section spent a very quiet day. Central Mining were well to the fore, and City Deep, Anglo-American, Brakpan, Van Ryn Deep, Rand Mines, "Johnnies," and several of the representative counters were fractionally harder. H.E. Props. were prominent on the satisfactory report and account. Apart from East Rands the shrinkages were infinitesimal. Rhodesians had a distinctly brighter appearance, and Chartered, which were in a good request, moved up. Tanganyika were bought from Paris, and went ahead, carrying Zambesia Exploring with them, and Sherwood Starr, Lonely, Gaika, Selukwe, and Transvaal, and Rhodesia were all better. Bechuanaland Exploration were inquired for on the company's good positon. In the Diamond section the announcement of the expected dividend of 10s. per share on De Beers Def. created a good impression. The shares came into steady demand and moved up, and Consol. Diamonds went ahead smartly, in anticipation of a satisfactory arrangement being made with the Diamond Syndicate, when the present temporary agreement expires at the end of the current month. The price of tin further advanced £2 12s. 6d. to £223 5s. per ton. Among Coppers, Rio Tinto were better. Closing prices:—

ALLOTMENTS IN UNITED DAIRIES, LIMITED.

We are informed that letters of allotment and regret were posted yesterday. Owing to the shares being very largely over-subscribed allotment is approximately as follows:—Ordinary Shares—To shareholders, farmers, customers—15 per cent. large, 30 per cent. small; to new applicants—10 per cent. over 100 shares and nil below 100 shares. Preference Shares—To shareholders, farmers, customers, 80 per cent.; new applicants, 60 per cent. A large percentage was allotted to employés in respect of both classes of shares.

INDUSTRIALS IRREGULAR.

BUSINESS RESTRICTED.

Business in the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday was considerably restricted owing to the approach of the general carry-over, which takes place to-day. Interest again centred in a few specialities, the general tendency remaining irregular. Imperial Tobaccos provided a feature, the shares meeting with good support, and, although finishing below the best, registered an advance of 1s. 4½d. to 75s. B.A.T.'s also exhibited firmness. Breweries scarcely moved. Caterers showed no changes, but among Foodstuffs Bovril Def. continued in request and appreciated to 41s. 6d., with the Ord. up to 25s. Textiles had a firmer appearance. Celanese Ord. were prominent, some option business being reported in the shares. Stores held their ground. Iron and Steels showed no important movements, while, apart from a rise in Furness Withys, Shipping issues were unaltered. Firmness characterized Electrical issues and the Wireless group kept up. Nitrates met with a little support and closed slightly better in places, and, except for Sudan Plantations and Bays, which suffered from realisations, Land Shares were maintained. Gramophones came into request in the Miscellaneous trading section. Newspaper issues showed no changes. Swedish Match improved to 8⅛, De Treys were wanted and left off 9d. better at £1, and Magadi Sodas came into request and finished 9d. up at 3s. 6d. British Portland Cements shed 3d. to 24s. 6d., and similar declines were registered in Low Temperature Carbonisations at 8s. 9d., in Mappin and Webbs to 12s. 3d. in the Prefs.

Parent Tyre Def. lost 1/16 at 1⅜, and Dunlops and the Prefs. held their ground. Crosse and Blackwells stiffened to 1s. 10½d. and the First Prefs. to 12s. The Seconds, however, still ruled at 3s. 9d. Courtaulds hardened to 59s. 3d., while Sewing Cottons rose 6d. to 53s. Stores were little dealt in, but prices were well maintained. Babcocks stiffened to 48 and Mond Nicholls to 38s. 6d. Platt Bros. weakened to 32s. 3d., and Chinese Engineering lost 1/16 at 3⅛. B.S.A. eased to 10s. 3d. and Stewart and Lloyd's Def. to 48s. 9d. Coal shares held their ground and Gas stocks showed no quotable alteration. Banks were rather uncertain, for while Chartered of India moved up to 20⅛ and Barclays B to 55s., British Overseas receded to 5⅛ and National Provincial (£4) closed fractionally lower at 11⅛. Electrical issues were quietly steady and no quotable changes were seen in the Wireless group. Cables were inclined to dulness. Recent issues were practically featureless. British Ropes hardened to 22s. 6d., while the Prefs. still ruled at 6 prem. Pease and Partners were a trifle lower at 10½ prem.

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOANS STILL CHEAP.

FRENCH FRANCS LOWER.

In Lombard street yesterday supplies of floating credit remained quite plentiful so far as regards day-to-day loans, which were obtainable at 1½-2 p.c., the demand for these being small. Weekly fixtures were renewed at 2½ p.c., but loans into July were wanted at 3-3½ p.c. Business was very quiet in the discount market, and rates were without material change. Fine three months' bills were called 3 to 3 1/16 p.c., the lower figure, however, being the more general working rate. There was a little inquiry for second-hand Treasuries at 2 13/16 p.c., with August bills 2⅞ p.c.

Gold rose 3d. to 95s. 3d. Silver declined ⅛d. per oz. for spot and 1/16d. for forward delivery to 34⅜d. for both positions.

Hopes surrounding the meeting of the two Premiers caused a sentimental improvement in the franc at the opening yesterday, the rate being down to 78.80 for the £. Later on, however, a reaction occurred to 80.00-80.10, against 79.50 on Saturday. Belgian francs moved in unison, opening at 91⅜ and reacting to 92⅛, while Italian lires firmed up to 100-100⅛. Following Saturday's slight recovery in New York, sterling was firmer at $4.33½, but eased off a little later to $4.33⅛-$4.33½, against $4.33 on Saturday. Holland was steady at 11.57½-11.58. A slight rally occurred in Spanish pesetas to 32.20-32.25. Norwegian kroners weakened to 32.10-32.15 and Greek drachmæ to 248-252. Argentine dollars remained at 41d., but Brazilian milreis were a shade easier at 5 15/16-6 1/16. The following are closing quotations:—

Castorseed firm but quiet; Bombay to Hull June-July quoted £25 17/6, Cawnpore ditto £24 per ton. Gingelly seed, also ground nuts, more or less neglected. LINSEED CAKES—With an improved inquiry and continued small production from the home mills, coupled with the fact that foreign descriptions are only sparingly offered, values have been forced up 5/- to 10/- per ton, to-day's nearest quotations for best London-made being £11 5/- to £11 10/-, and Spanish and Calcutta for early arrival at £11 to £11 5/- per ton ex ship. Cotton Cakes—The market is practically bare of stocks of Egyptian, while for June and July shipments shippers ask £7 5/- to £7 7/6 per ton ex ship terms, with home-made cakes relatively cheaply mentioned at £7 15/- to £7 17/6, and Bombays at £7 5/- per ton. Decorticated Cotton Cakes—Brazilian are still procurable in limited quantity at £12, and meal at £12 10/- per ton for prompt delivery. Ground Nut Cakes—Decorticated offer at £11 10/- to £11 15/-, semi-decorticated at £10 15/-, and undecorticated at £8 10/- per ton, at which there is a fair business passing. Rice Meal—A parcel of fine quality German manufacture now on the quay is comparatively good value at £7 10/- per ton, while some Calcutta is available at £7 per ton. OFFALS—English middlings are firmly held up at £8 10/- to £8 15/-, while bran is more reasonably quoted at £6 to £6 5/-, and some Plate pollards for July-August shipment at £5 7/6 to £6 10/- per ton, ex ship terms. Maize Foods—Garton's maize gluten feed continues in good request at £8 10/- to £8 15/-, maize germ cake meal at £9 10/- to £9 15/- per ton, and maize germ meal at £8 5/- to £8 10/- per ton.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR, Monday.—Market opens firm; good demand at full prices.

MISCELLANEOUS.

BRADFORD WOOL, Monday.—Business is dragging and tendency to wait for further test of raw material in London next week. Prices are a shade easier, but they are almost nominal owing to absence of business. Combing and spinning machinery less active and spinners are getting sufficient orders to keep up output.

LIVERPOOL COTTON (Closing), Monday.—American improved request. Brazilian quotations reduced 19 points. East Indian quotations reduced 15 points. Egyptian quiet. June 15.74d., July 16.48d., August 15.97d., September 15.43d., October 14.85d., November 14.62d. Sales 6,000, imports 9,422 bales. Market barely steady.

LONDON METALS MARKET.

TIN DEARER.

TIN—Market displayed firmer features, sellers showing more reserve, with business on a moderate scale; cash, also forward, ruled 50/- to 55/- per ton dearer compared with last week's close. Standard cash, also three months, quoted £223 to £223 10/-, settlement price £223. Sales totalled 500 tons, including cash at £222 15/-, three months £220 10/-, £223 10/-, £223, and finally registered at £223 5/-. COPPER slightly irregular, but prices about unaltered on balance, while a good business resulted. Sales 1,150 tons; standard cash quoted at £61 to £61 2/6, three months £61 17/6 to £62; settlement price £61. Standard cash changed hands at £61, three months £61 17/6 to £62 and £61 18/9; electros quoted £65 10/- to £66. LEAD steady for near positions, but distant rather easier. A good demand prevailed, and 1,150 tons sold; good soft foreign pig June at £32 5/-, July £31 5/- to £31 2/6, and again at £31 5/-. August £30 5/- to £30 2/6; English unaltered at £33 10/-. SPELTER tends firmer on reserved offerings, with a quiet demand, 250 tons sold, June at £31 17/6, July £31 12/6, Sept. £31 10/- per ton. TINPLATES, also QUICKSILVER, remained unaltered.

An International Trade Exhibition is to be opened at Tilburg, Holland, on July 18.
